THE ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

PROGRESS ON N. C. A. ACCREDITMENT

President Ernest E. Miller

The last Bulletin intimated that we are going ahead with our plan for accreditment by the N. C. A. In line with necessary procedure we submitted our complete set of schedules to officials of the Association on December 1. On December 17 Dean Bender and I had an interview with Dr. Brumbaugh, secretary of the association, on the data revealed on these schedules. The evaluation revealed much the same strength and weakness as last year. A point by point comparison on items lending themselves to objective evaluation shows the following result:

	39-40	40-41
Doctor's degrees	94	94
Master's degrees	42	67
Graduate study	80	88
Graduate training	89	73
Educational experience	23	21
Publications—books	50	61
Publications—articles	72	75
L. S.—membership	51	62
L. S.—meetings	61	93
L. S.—programs	63	63
Student—faculty ratio	63
Salaries	16	11
Aids to growth	50	60
Expenditures for books	23	24
Expenditures for library salaries	40	93
Educational expenditure per student	14	17
Stable income per student	21	26
Debt per student	29	29
Teaching Load	29	28
Book holdings		9
Magazine holdings		48

These preliminary data show that Goshen stands relatively low on expenditure for books, educational expenditure, stable income, and debt per student. These figures indicate percentile ratings in terms of colleges now members of the North Central Association. In doctor's degrees, for example, the Goshen College faculty ranks above 94% of the colleges now holding membership, while in teacher's salaries, book holdings, educational expenditure per student, etc.. our rating is correspondingly low. There are elements of strength which are encouraging and the ratings on the whole are an advance over last year.

We have been encouraged by this showing to proceed with the survey by N. C. A. inspectors. The matter of doing so was approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Education in a meeting on December 19. The inspection likely will be made the first week in February.

It is possible that the examiners may not consider Goshen College ready for accreditation at this time. But we believe that the practical value of the survey will be much worth while even if they report postponement. The preliminary studies in connection with the schedules have already been valuable in helping us plan for a more efficient use of our finances. It is clear that many of the weaknesses of the institution grow out of financial limitations. We confidently hope that the alumni of the college will respond to our appeal to increase their donations during the current year from $3,500 to $6,000. This will mean that some new donors must be added to our list and that others will increase their donations. Will you help us make this forward step in a bigger and better Goshen College?

LIVING ENDOWMENT RETURNS

L. C. Hartzler 35, Alumni Secretary

Alumni response to the annual solicitation campaign for the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan is heartening. Returns for the month of December reached $727, increasing the total alumni contributions since September 1, 1940, to $1,360.

Our goal for 1940-41 is $6,350. To reach that goal the monthly contributions for the remaining eight months must average $625. A continuation of the present monthly average will leave us $2,270 behind our goal, which means that we will have only $1,730 to spend for library books instead of the $3,000 originally planned.

Because of the weaknesses in our financial program from the viewpoint of the N. C. A., the Alumni Association has chosen to help where your dollars can do the most, that is, whatever you give over last year will be spent to furnish the library with much needed books.

Since the N. C. A. examiners will be here the first part of February, a hearty alumni response by that time may easily swing the pendulum toward accreditment. Send part of your gift now and the remainder later, if you cannot send all at the present time.

The College Administration, the Alumni Association officials, and the Alumni Secretary wish to thank you all sincerely for your faithful support. We cannot get along without you.

CONFERENCE PRINTS HISTORY

The following announcement appeared in the Gospel Herald, issue of December 26, 1940:

A book entitled, History of the Mennonite Sunday Schools of Ohio, written by John S. Umble, Professor of Speech, Goshen, Ind., is in the printer's hands and will be completed about the first of February.

The book is written in an interesting manner and contains a number of cuts of churches and individuals.

Anyone interested in having a book can place his order with the secretary of the Historical Committee, O. N. Johns, Canton, O., R. R. 3. The price of the book is $1.50. Per O. N. Johns.

The book will contain nearly five hundred pages and about one hundred cuts. The Ohio Mennonite Sunday School Conference appointed I. W. Royer 00, Bishop O. N. Johns x07, and James Steiner 32 a special Historical Committee to print and distribute the book.

The low price is made possible by pre-publication orders of the local Sunday schools which guarantee some of the printing costs in advance.

ROSANNA OF THE AMISH

The second edition of this rapidly selling book is now under way and will be ready for delivery in a few days. One commendable feature of the book is that it was written by a friend of the Amish Mennonite people, who comes to their defense where other writers hold them up in an unenviable light. Send all orders to the author. Bro. J. W. Yoder, Huntingdon, Pa., or to the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pa., and its branch stores at New Holland, Pa., Lancaster, Pa., Kitchener, Ont., and Souderton, Pa. Retail price. $2.00.—Gospel Herald, issue of January 2, 1941.

The author of this book was a former instructor in the Elkhart Institute. He is prominent in Mennonite circles in the East and was chorister of the Ohio Mennonite Sunday School Conference in August.

GOSPEL TEAMS

Three Gospel teams visited Mennonite churches during the Christmas vacation. One group visited Canada and New York; one visited points in Ohio and southwestern Pennsylvania; the third traveled west through Illinois and Iowa.

The group visiting Canada was in charge of Howard Zehr of Deer Creek, Illinois, and Miss Viola M. Good, Dean of Women. The members of this group were: Millard Lind, Tangent, Oregon; Carl Beck, Wauseon, Ohio; Albert Miller, Akron, Pennsylvania; Arnold Dietzel, Bay Port, Michigan; Kathryn Mumaw, Elkhart; Ella May Weaver, Harper, Kansas; Miriam Stalter, Lima, Ohio; Alta Hertzler, Morgantown, Pennsylvania. Their itinerary included the following churches in Canada: Steinman, Latschar, Wagner, Hagey, St. Jacobs, Waterloo, Breslau, Elmira, Shantz, Kitchener, and the Biehn Church at New Hamburg. They reached Clarence Center, New York, on December 30. Their other stops were Britton Run, Pennsylvania; Aurora, Ohio; and North Lima, Ohio.

The second group in charge of Dwight Stoltzfus, Aurora, Ohio, was: Harold Mishler, Davidsville, Pennsylvania; Ed Alderfer, Blooming Glen, Pennsylvania; Howard Kauffman, West Liberty, Ohio; Russell Krabill, Wayland, Iowa; Robert Kreider, Wadsworth, Ohio; Allen Miller, Springs, Pennsylvania; Merrill Swartley, Souderton, Pennsylvania; and Warren Leatherman, Doylestown, Pennsylvania. Their itinerary included Wadsworth, Orrville, Walnut Creek, Kidron, Martins Creek, Oak Grove in Wayne County, Beech in Stark County, Ohio; and the following stops in Pennsylvania: Masontown, Scottdale, Weavers, Blough-Johnstown, Springs, Martinsburg, and Belleville.

The third group in charge of Ralph Hernley, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania, was: Orval Shoemaker, Dakota, Illinois; Paul King, Goshen; Clarence Hooley, North Lawrence, Ohio; Roman Gingerich, Kalona, Iowa; Glenn Widmer, Wayland, Iowa; Alfred Zook, Wooster, Ohio; Harold Oyer, Eureka, Illinois; Roy Roth, Morton, Illinois; and Edward Friesen, Drug, C. P., India. Their itinerary included stops at Kouts, Indiana; Chicago, Freeport, and Sterling, Illinois; and at Iowa City, Wellman, Manson, South English, Wayland, and Kalona, Iowa, and a final stop at Metamora, Illinois, on the return trip.

The last four mentioned in each group composed a quartet which furnished special music at all the programs. The general titles of the programs given by each group were: "In the Steps of the Master," and "Christ Meeting Human Needs." The programs consisted of song, prayer, talks, and testimony.

All of the groups returned safely to the campus and all speak enthusiastically of their cordial welcome by members of the brotherhood everywhere.

FACULTY NOTES

Dr. and Mrs. Willard Smith 27 (Verna Graber 27), accompanied by Lois Gunden 36, Tilman Smith 28, and Arthur Smith 23, spent the Christmas vacation on a trip through the southern part of United States and through Mexico to Mexico City. Among other things the group saw the Floating Gardens and the Shrine of Gaudalupe, at Mexico City; the ancient pyramids of Teotihuacan; the onyx shops of Puebla; and the quaint city of Cuernzvaca, where the Palace of Cortez is located.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Harold Hartzler spent part of the Christmas vacation at Baton Rouge, where Professor Hartzler attended the annual convention of the Mathematical Association of America. They were accompanied by Professor D. A. Lehman, who also attended the meetings of the M. A. A.

Dr. Silas Hertzler 12 has been accepted as a member of the American Psychological Association.

The second semester will see several changes in faculty and courses. Professor Paul Erb, now Dean of Hesston College, will become head of the English department and chairman of the division of literature, language and fine arts; Levi Hartzler will spend most of next semester in the field, soliciting funds from the alumni and visiting prospective students; Myrtle Kolb will teach a course in home nursing; and Professor Paul Mininger will be back on the staff to serve as religious counsellor and to teach courses in religious education and Bible.

Dean Bender will be on Sabbatical leave next semester; Dr. Paul Bender will then be acting Dean. Dean Bender will be engaged in research and writing a history of American Mennonites. He will do some traveling, visiting Mennonite churches in the United States and Canada.

Two new evening courses will be offered in the coming semester. George Pepple, attorney at law, will teach a course in practical Business Law, and Dr. Friedmann will offer the course, The Cultural Background of Contemporary Europe.

ALUMNUS IN LONDON

John Coffman 33, who is doing relief work in England, writes from London: "I am happy to report that the air raids have not been nearly so serious since I have arrived. I am getting somewhat used to the 'Alert' signal, and the night raids remind one very much of a thunder storm with sharp flashes of light in the sky and the accompanying rattle of the guns and bombs is like the thunder. . . . I must tell you about an interesting experience I had while on the boat coming over. . . . The fourteenth of October was the second Monday in the month, which is usually the date of the Canadian Thanksgiving celebrations. I had forgotten about this until dinner time, when what was my surprise to find 'Maplecrest Turkey' on the menu. What memories that name brought to me! So I celebrated the occasion quite fittingly and thankfully in the very middle of the Atlantic. It tasted just about as good as usual. The only part lacking to make it just as good as usual was the associating of dear friends and scenes in the dining hall of Goshen College. . . . About a week ago we were invited to the East End of London to see the work which a group of young men associated with the International Voluntary Service for Peace are doing in the shelters in one of the Boroughs there. They work in two squads, each squad with a canteen van from which they sell hot tea, sandwiches and cakes at a penny apiece to the people in the shelters. Ted went with one squad and I went with another. We put on "tin" hats and started off about 7:30 p. m. and made the rounds of about six or seven shelters each until about 11 p. m. Some of the shelters accommodated from 800 to 1000 people and the smallest had only about a dozen in them. The inmates were mostly grateful as many of them go to the shelters straight from their work, and have no facilities for getting hot meals or for taking hot drink along with them." Mr. Coffman's address is 20 Garden Square, London, W. C. I.

HOLDS HIGH POSITION IN FIELD OF EDUCATION

The following item is taken from the Higher Education, Supplement, for the Federal Security Agency, U. S. Office of Education, for November, 1940.

Lloyd E. Blauch [16], Ph.D., University of Chicago, 1923, has joined the staff of the Division of Higher Education, U. S. Office of Education, to carry on studies in the college and university field. Among his duties will be the administration of the Morrill and Supplementary Morrill funds which are granted each year to land-grant colleges and universities. Dr. Blauch has had a rich experience in college and university surveys and has studied and taught extensively in the field of higher education. He had an earlier connection with the U. S. Office of Education as Specialist in charge of land-grant college statistics, 1921-23, and was professor of education in the North Carolina College for Women from 1923 to 1930. Since 1931 he has been executive secretary of the Survey Commission of the American Association of Dental Schools. He has taught courses in education at the University of Maryland during the past ten summers, has served as staff member of the President's Advisory Committee on Education during 1937 to 1939.

ALUMNUS DIRECTS CHOIR

The Mennonite male choir broadcasted a program of Christmas carols over Radio Station WIZE Springfield, Sunday from 5:30 to 6 p. m. The group was composed of twenty voices in charge of Chauncey Kauffman x24 and included singers from South Union, Oak Grove and Bethel Churches. The program was repeated at Bethel Church Sunday evening at 7:30, and special numbers were given by both men's and ladies' quartets. A large audience was present.—The West Liberty Banner, issue of December 11, 1940.

ORDAINED TO THE MINISTRY

On December 8, the Bethel Mennonite Church at West Liberty, Ohio, voted for candidates for the ministry and gave Frank Byler 40 an almost unanimous vote. He was ordained minister by Bishop S. E. Allgyer, assisted by Bishop N. E. Troyer and others. He received the degree, Bachelor of Science in Education at Goshen College in August, but for several years past has been principal of the Salem Township Elementary Schools at Kingscreek, Ohio. He entered Goshen College in —— entirely without funds and worked his way through college. He several times discontinued his college work for a period in order to work in a factory to "get square with the world." He was active in the religious life of the College, a member of the Foreign Volunteer Band, the Men's and A Cappella Choruses, and the Aurora Literary Society, and was prominent in athletics. He attended Summer School at the College for several recent summers, and the student body elected him chairman of the Student Activities Association for three seasons.

Later: As we go to press, we learn that A. Lorne Burkholder 37 was ordained to the ministry for the Cedar Grove congregation in York County, Ontario, on December 29. The officiating bishops were Moses Roth and Oliver Snider 21.

Also that Allen Ebersole 30 of the Elkhart congregation was ordained to the ministry on January 6 to serve as pastor and superintendent of the Fort Wayne Mission. January 19 is the date set for the installation of Mr. and Mrs. Ebersole (Nellie Miller 31) as superintendent and matron of the mission.

Goshen Gains Accreditation

President Miller

Goshen College has been admitted into the North Central Association. This achievement brings joy to us all. It is particularly gratifying to the present faculty and student body of the college. It grants recognition and approval which not alone provides a certain satisfaction but also enhances the value of our work. To alumni this accreditation must likewise be encouraging. It gives a recognition to their Alma Mater in which they may take just pride. To the Mennonite Board of Education and its constituency this achievement is particularly significant. It indicates that the most influential accrediting agency of the middle west recognized the validity of the purpose of this church-related college and stands ready to help encourage the Board in her efforts.

A great many persons have had a share in bringing about this achievement. I do not believe that any one individual seeks or deserves credit above others for this accomplishment. But, I am of the opinion that all those associated with the college in recent years will agree with me that my predecessor, Dr. S. C. Yoder, and our present Dean, Dr. H. S. Bender, deserve particular mention because of their vision and consequent untiring effort in formulating and executing plans to this end. But, there have been many helpers and predecessors and we dare not forget that total line of administrative officers and faculty who throughout the years have in their turn carried the responsibility for the formulation of Goshen standards and helped in building up her traditions. Again, there are those who have brought students to be taught and secured finances to provide for a continually enlarging program. We owe a debt of gratitude to each and all and we thank God for their sacrifices.

Personally, I would also like to acknowledge openly and humbly what I consider the most decisive factor in the total enterprise. There is no doubt but that God has led us. During those strenuous and rather uncertain days in Chicago week before last, I can only explain the happenings in terms of His guidance. He opened doors and His spirit prompted the things that needed to be said. "For it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak." This has been characteristic of the procedure throughout and we acknowledge humbly His direction and guidance.

But you ask, what are the advantages of this accreditation. They are numerous. The chief one no doubt is the value that has come to the institution in its preparation to seek admission. N. C. A. has formulated criteria describing the characteristics of institutions worthy of public recognition. They serve as a pattern indicating standards to be achieved by each institution. The faculty of Goshen has been guided by these criteria in evaluating its procedures and motivated by it to undertake the consequent improvements. Accreditation will also be a distinct advantage to students of the college who desire to transfer to other institutions. Their credits will now be accepted without discount or difficulty. Graduating from an accredited college will also help our graduates in securing positions. This is particularly advantageous in the field of teaching.

However, certain tasks still remain to be completed. The N. C. A. has given us complete recognition with the provision that we are subject to review at the next annual meeting on, first, the condition of our library, and, second, the state of our finances. Our final schedules on library book holdings still placed us at only the ninth percentile. I promised the inspectors and the Board of Review that we would expend, during this fiscal year, above our regular library budget, an additional $2,500.00 to improve our book holdings. I made this promise on the good faith I had in the alumni of the college to make good their undertaking.

In the matter of finances, N. C. A. officials want two things. In the first instance, they want to see an increase in our donations. Our donations have increased from $4,705.23 to $15,498.14 during the past five years. They would like to ascertain further whether this indicates a real trend on the part of our constituency to supply our needs. If alumni succeed in their undertaking to raise an additional $3,000.00 during the current year for library holdings, it will, therefore, help us on both counts. Efforts are likewise being made to get other sections of our supporting constituency to help us by increased donations. N. C. A. officials also desire a more consolidated system of accounts on the part of the college, the Mennonite Educational Finance Corporation and the Board of Education. This can, without doubt, be satisfactorily arranged.

N. C. A. officials agreed with us that Goshen was in a better position to meet these deficiencies if accredited than if asked to continue without accreditment. They are counting on the traditional honesty of Mennonites to attempt seriously a fulfillment of their promises. We are counting on Goshen alumni and friends to do their part in helping build a bigger and better Goshen College.

Alumni Accreditment Plan

The enthusiasm which initiated and maintained the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan for the last five years was duly rewarded on March 27, 1941, when Goshen College was elected into N. C. A. membership. The Alumni are to be congratulated for their faithful support of the Accreditment Plan.

However, no alumnus has read the President's message on the preceding page without being keenly aware that maintaining N. C. A. standards will be equally as arduous a task as attaining them in the first place. In fact, Goshen continues below the standard on library book holdings and finances, and for that reason additional reports on those items must be made next year.

It was pointed out to the examiners that the administration is well aware of the weaknesses of the school and that the Alumni are helping to remedy the book situation this year, besides making a substantial contribution to college budget expenses. The administration feels confident that when the reports are sent in next year, the required $2,500 above the annual book expenditure will be included because of alumni faithfulness. This, after all, is a small item in comparison to the library building which was largely made possible last year by alumni support.

Will you help Goshen maintain Accreditment by sending in your contributions today?

When the annual alumni drive was launched last November, a goal of $3,350 for College budget expenses and $3,000 for library books was set. At that time no one knew just what the outcome of the N. C. A. examination would be, but the importance of the book fund is now evident. In the first seven months of the school year we have received $2,443.75 toward our total goal. These figures speak for themselves. We do not know your financial circumstances, but we are attempting to keep you informed concerning the needs of the College, believing that you will do your best to help her.

In the five years since the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan was inaugurated, a little over nine hundred of Goshen's two thousand alumni have contributed to the Plan at least once. The average number contributing each year has been about 430. So far this year only 325 alumni have contributed. According to the present average contribution at least 520 more must contribute before we can reach our goal.

Goshen needs the support of every alumnus. If you have sent in your usual contribution, do not fail to send more for library books. To those who have not yet sent in their contribution, please remember the book fund in making your remittance. Send in your donation today.

President Miller Announces Additions to the Staff

During special chapel exercises held on Wednesday, April 2, President Miller announced several changes in the faculty for the coming school year.

New Librarian

J. Boyd Cressman, professor of English at the Ontario Bible College, Ft. Erie North, Ontario, is coming to Goshen as librarian. Mr. Cressman will be on the campus the first semester of 1941-42 and will complete his work in Library Science at the University of Michigan Library School during the second semester, returning to Goshen as full-time librarian in June of 1942.

Mr. Cressman received his B. A. degree from Goshen College in 1921, his M. A. from the University of Michigan in 1926, held a teaching fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh in 1927-28, and has done further graduate study at Yale University and the University of Michigan Library School. He served as Instructor of English at Goshen College from 1928-30.

The College wishes to acknowledge the excellent services of Mrs. Stella Kauffman Binkele who has been very active in helping to plan the new library and in advancing the status of the library toward the North Central Association standards. She will leave the staff in June, 1942, to take up her duties as a homemaker.

Physical Education Department

In line with its present policy of attempting to meet the increasing training needs of its students, Goshen College will offer courses in Physical Education next year under the direction of instructors with full faculty status. Heretofore, no theory courses have been offered and physical education classes have usually been directed by student instructors. The present step forward is being made with the intention of securing an option in Physical Education for teacher training purposes. Anyone desiring to prepare for such a position will be interested in the new offerings.

Roman L. Gingerich of Kalona, Ia., has been secured as Instructor in Physical Education for men. Mr. Gingerich completed his work for the B. A. degree at Goshen College at the close of the first semester of this year and is taking graduate work in Physical Education at the University of Iowa during the second semester and the summer of 1941. He will join the staff in September of this year and complete his work for the Master's degree in the summer of 1942. Mr. Gingerich is well fitted for his task, having served as student director of Physical Education during his undergraduate days at Goshen College.

E. LaVerne Yoder Hostetler graduated from Goshen College in the class of 1934 and took her M. A. in English at the University of Iowa in 1935. She joined the faculty of Goshen College in September of 1936 as Instructor in English and Physical Education and served in that capacity until June of 1939. In June of 1938 she was married to Carl M. Hostetler, 33, a medical student at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O. Mrs. Hostetler and her small son, Carl Jr., will be residing with her parents, Dr. & Mrs. S. C. Yoder, 1133 S. 8th St., Goshen, Ind., next year while her husband serves his interneship at the Cleveland City Hospital, and she will give approximately one third of her time as Instructor in Physical Education for women at Goshen College.

Courses in Rural Sociology and Rural Economics to be Offered Next Year

The Mennonite people of America have lived almost entirely in strong, closely knit rural communities. The problems now confronting these same communities as a result of modern facilities of communication and modern equipment in the home and on the farm, along with the financial considerations facing the beginning farmer, are in many respects endangering traditional community life.

Goshen College is attempting to contribute to a constructive solution of these problems by offering courses in Rural Sociology and Rural Economics. The course in Rural Sociology takes up a study of the problems which country people meet in their community and family living in such fields as standards of living in the country, social group life, the country school, the country church, and the Christian community. Problems peculiar to certain rural areas of the United States are also considered. The course in Rural Economics is a study of the various economic forces affecting American agriculture, including the causes of the variation in the prices of farm produce and the problem of farm surpluses, the influence of government policies and of foreign agriculture on the American farmer, and the problem of rural community co-operative organizations.

Hence, the large majority of Goshen students coming from rural communities will have an opportunity to prepare themselves for an intelligent attack upon the problems facing them in their home communities. Professor Guy F. Hershberger, who has been making a study of Mennonite rural life, will teach the course in Rural Sociology. This course has been offered at various times before and has always proved popular and successful. The new instructor in Economics, Carl Kreider, will offer the course in Rural Economics for the first time next year.

Plans are also under way to include a course in some phase of agriculture science in the new offerings for the coming school year. Goshen College is hoping for an increased interest in such courses.

Teacher Training

Teachers and teacher training students will be interested to know that Goshen College is now accredited to offer the four year elementary teacher training curriculum and has been granted seventeen options in secondary teacher training by the State Board of Education of Indiana. Since her recent admission into the N. C. A., Goshen College has made application to the State Board of Indiana for standard accreditment, such as is granted to all other N. C. A. members. This will eliminate the necessity of making application for yearly accreditment in teacher training work, but will in no way provide for any laxity in the quality of teacher training offered at Goshen College.

An option in teacher training is a subject group in which a student must major for teaching purposes. Goshen College offers options for high school teaching in English, Mathematics, German, French, Latin, Speech, Music, Home Economics, three in Social Studies, four in Science, and two in Commerce.

Student Solicitation

Alumni and friends will be interested in the new setup for student solicitation. President Miller has arranged that Professor Umble should be responsible for student solicitation within a fifty-mile radius of Goshen. This covers contacts with the local high schools and, at the same time, leaves Professor Umble free for his teaching program.

Outside of this fifty-mile radius, student solicitation is in charge of L. C. Hartzler. For some years it has been evident that general student solicitation and the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan should be directed by one person who can give more of his time to the program than a full-time instructor. Dean H. S. Bender will contact high school seniors in southwestern Pennsylvania and contact anyone throughout the state interested in continuing his training above the Junior College level.

In the state of Indiana a new method of student solicitation is being introduced. "Guidance Conferences" are arranged by the heads of the leading schools in the state in co-operation with high school principals and county superintendents. On a certain day the high school seniors, and in some cases the juniors, meet at a central point in the county. Usually the forenoon is devoted to inspirational talks and vocational guidance. In the afternoon high school students have an opportunity to meet the representatives of different colleges to learn what each school has to offer.

Heretofore, the student solicitation program of Goshen College has been rather periodic and spasmodic. Many other institutions find it profitable to keep several representatives in the field during most of the year. The change in Goshen's solicitation program results from a desire on the part of the administration to provide its constituency with a better understanding of the services offered by the College.

Goshen College appeals to the high school graduate because it is a small Christian college with a superior staff of instructors. Other advantages are the many opportunities for reducing expenses below the advertised rate of $400.00 for the resident student, such as scholarships, service appointments, and student loans through The Tuition Plan of which Goshen College is a participating associate. N. C. A. accreditment will, of course, be another added advantage because it will settle many questions in the mind of the student who contemplates entering Goshen College. More than a score of students, both local and at a distance, have already stated that accreditment proves the deciding factor in their intention to enter Goshen College in September.

Recreation Site on the Elkhart River

Alumni and former students will remember with pleasure the happy hours spent along the Elkhart River at College Point. Since the College no longer owns the property on which College Point is located, and since property along the river is fast being acquired by private owners who might eventually exclude Goshen College students from free access to the river, the College has acquired a two acre plot of land just south of the old ice house on the east side of the lake formed by the dam.

The acquisition of this property was announced at the Home-coming banquet last November, and since that time plans for improving the property and making it usable for recreational purposes have been going forward. The Class of '41 is donating a cabin as a class gift. Labor on the cabin is being donated by the class members and other interested students, and funds necessary for buying materials will be raised through three assessments of the class over a period of two years. It is estimated that the cabin will cost around one thousand dollars.

The faculty and student body are planning a special Arbor Day program of work on the recreation site where two picnic areas, an open space for outdoor games, an Audubon Hut, a boat landing, a diving float, and a road into the cabin are to be prepared. Trees and shrubs will be planted to beautify the property.

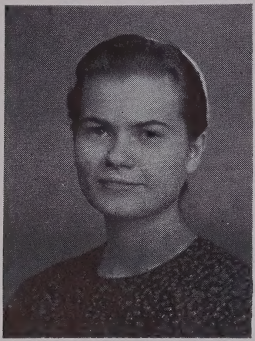
Students Speak at Special Chapel Exercises

We print here the speeches of the junior and senior speakers.

WHY GOSHEN COLLEGE?

Anna Lois Bucher, Dallastown, Pa.



Anna Lois Bucher

In 1937 when looking forward to a college education, I asked myself the question, "Why go to Goshen?" But now that I am about to graduate, I say with many others, "Goshen College is the place for Mennonite youth who are preparing to further their education."

You may be wondering, why Goshen? First of all, everyone goes to school to train for his life work. In so doing he chooses a school that will give him the training he needs according to recognized standards. As Christian youth, we come to Goshen intending that our training shall be based upon the Christian principles and teachings that have been instilled in us from childhood. Where could one find this integration better than in Dr. Hershberger's history classes, Miss Royer's education classes, or Professor Erb's English classes?

We, therefore, come to Goshen expecting to achieve great things spiritually as well as intellectually. This achievement is aided by the daily power and inspiration received during our private devotions, the importance of which is constantly stressed by our leaders.

Not only does Goshen give us a chance to grow spiritually by teaching us special Bible courses and strengthening all its teachings with Bible truths, but it provides another very important way for Christian growth. Did you ever feel that college was the place where your home teachings became basic in your life more than ever before? The Goshen College student body is an accumulation of young people from all over the United States, coming from various Mennonite and other Christian groups, having similar purposes but varied backgrounds. Does this mean that they are to forget their past training and adopt the ways of the place and the time? No, it means much more than that. It means that here they can learn to see the other person's point of view and add his good points to those truths which they have found fundamental in their lives. This is one of the great things that Goshen has done for me.

Here also, we learn to appreciate the church that supports Goshen and the principles it upholds through study and association with men who are influential in the church, and by seeing the principles applied in our everyday lives.

Furthermore, we all know it is impossible to grow strong by constantly assimilating and never giving out anything. Goshen College has foreseen this problem, and therefore gives every opportunity for us to grow by giving. For example, it provides prayer meetings, young people's meetings, Sunday School and extension work.

So, Goshen is my recommendation as a school where one's social, intellectual and religious life are properly co-ordinated and where one can grow continually.

REPRESENTING GOSHEN COLLEGE

Harold Mishler, Davidsville, Penna.

Emerson once said, "An institution is but the lengthened shadow of a man." Perhaps in our situation today we would be permitted to make the word man in this quotation plural to have it apply to Goshen College.

I do not have to enumerate the many improvements that have appeared on the campus within the last year to make you aware of the fact that Goshen College is a growing institution, and that she is an institution of which all of us may well be proud, and from which all of us as undergraduates may proudly anticipate graduation. I wonder whether we realize what has been the cause of our progress, and just where the force behind these determined efforts toward the advancement of Goshen College really lies.

Personally, I can answer that question very well with a phrase from the Bible, "But Daniel purposed in his heart." Some men purposed, not a year ago, but several years ago, to bring about the things which we are enjoying on the campus today. The untiring efforts of the faculty have helped make Goshen College what she is today. Their efforts have been the means of strengthening a little philosophy of my own: "A person can usually have whatever he wants if he wants it bad enough and wants it long enough." Our faculty members are our best examples of the College motto, "Culture for Service."

Goshen College has many things that are hindering its progress, and perhaps the greatest of these is its financial handicap. Since Goshen College has limited finances, she cannot afford to indulge in expensive advertising, but relies largely on the impressions that we as students make on other people as a means of bringing more students to our campus.

Harold Mishler

During the next week many of us will be at home. We will meet people who will be interested in going to college this coming fall, and who at the present time have not definitely decided where they are going. That is just where we are going to have a good opportunity to try a little salesmanship and pass on some of that enthusiasm about Goshen College that, I am sure, all of us have acquired; and perhaps when September rolls around we will have such a large freshman class that President Miller will be made to feel like the president of a large eastern university who had just announced in chapel that the freshman class enrollment was the largest in the history of the institution. Immediately following the announcement he read the text for the morning, "Lord, how are they increased that trouble me!"

"Remember, wherever you are, you represent Goshen College!"

The Goshen College Bible School Invites You to Prepare Now for Christian Service

AIM

Goshen College believes the Church needs men and women who are prepared to assume the responsibilities of Christian leadership in the present world situation, men and women of vision, faith and conviction. The College seeks to build these characteristics into the lives of its students through a reverent and thorough study of the Word of God. An understanding of the message of the Gospel and of God's will for the Church today are felt to be fundamental to effective service.

STUDENT CONSECRATION AND LOYALTY

Through devotional meetings, prayer meetings and personal interviews, students are led to consecrate their lives to Jesus Christ. It is believed that unless the Christian worker maintains this spirit of consecration during his years of preparation, his service will be ineffective.

Loyalty to the Mennonite Church and an appreciation of its unique contribution to the world are also essentials which the College believes must be part of the worker's equipment.

PRACTICAL WORK

The program of the College provides opportunity for students to secure training and practical experience in actual Christian work. Many opportunities are given them to engage in Sunday school work, Gospel team programs, rescue mission and jail services; to give personal testimonies, visit in the homes of those needing spiritual help, distribute Christian literature, and in other ways participate in spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

THE ADVANCED BIBLE COURSE

For those who are able to spend four years in preparation for definite Christian work, the College provides the Advanced Bible Course which leads to a Th. B. degree. The course consists of sixty semester hours of liberal arts and sixty semester hours of Bible and related subjects. Those who take this course may participate in the activities of the college the same as the regular liberal arts students.

THE ONE YEAR CHRISTIAN WORKER'S COURSE

There are many young people who, for various reasons, are not able to attend college for a period of four years, but who are interested in serving God as layworkers in their local church, and who could spend one year in securing training and experience which would equip them for better service. Therefore, Goshen College is offering a One Year Christian Worker's Course which places special emphasis on Bible study and practical Christian work and gives the student an opportunity to take one course each semester in Music or Speech.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Students regularly registered in one of the three Bible School curriculums, the one or two year Christian Worker's Course, or the four year Bachelor of Theology Course, are eligible for a special Bible scholarship. For full particulars, write Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana.

A Word from Students in the Bible School

Ella May Weaver

Through systematic Bible study and the original language study, some of the treasures of God and His will have been opened up to me. It has not made me feel that I know it "all," but merely that the surface of the riches of God's truth has been touched. The practical courses have aided me in understanding the problems of the Church in presenting the Gospel in the most effective methods. With this added knowledge, and a clearer vision of Christ and of the task of the Church, there comes to me a greater responsibility in helping to promote Christ's kingdom on earth.

Ella May Weaver,
Harper, Kansas.

I shall never regret the time spent in the Bible school at Goshen College. I consider these four years the most profitable years of my life because they have deepened my Christian experience and afforded me an opportunity to prepare myself for greater service for the Master. It has been a pleasure to share the warm fellowship of a Bible school faculty interested in the personal welfare of every student. It has been a real privilege to study under men who are my personal friends as well as excellent Bible teachers.

I would sincerely recommend the Goshen College Bible School to any young person who is interested in doing some special line of Christian work. The school does not only provide academic training, but it affords an opportunity for practical Christian service while here. The sum total of the school life,—the classwork, fellowship with the students and faculty, along with the various other activities—has played a very large part in making me the type of person which I am. I leave the school with the words of the Apostle as my goal: "To me to live is Christ." I leave with the desire to use this training to the furtherance of His cause.

Nancy Hernley, with a major in Bible, is a member of the graduating class but will not receive her degree until she finishes her nurses' training.

PLACEMENT OF 1941 GRADUATES

While it is still rather early for school boards to employ teachers for the year 1941-42, several members of the class of 1941 are already employed.

Carol Glick, Sugarcreek, Ohio, is employed to teach the Meadow Valley School (Number Four), in Tuscarawas County, Ohio.

Paul Gibson, of New Paris, is employed to teach music and art in the Shipshewana high school. He will attend Ball State College at Muncie this summer to complete his work for the license in art.

Eunice Weaver of Goshen, is employed as librarian and instructor in English in the Shipshewana high school. In order to secure a permit to serve as librarian, she will attend Ball State Teachers College this summer to study library science.

Ruth Buzzard, who will graduate from Goshen College in June with the degree, Bachelor of Science in Education, is now at Ball State completing the work for her degree. Miss Buzzard has been employed to teach in the city of South Bend next year.

Elsie Eash who left at the midyear to teach a rural school near her home at Johnstown, Pennsylvania, is registered for the spring term and will complete her work for the degree Bachelor of Science in Education in August.

Betty Landaw, of Goshen, is employed to teach in the Rensberger school, grades 3, 4, and 5, in Elkhart Township, succeeding Mrs. Alvin Housour (Mary Cathcart 39).

Martha Smucker, graduated from the two year elementary course in 1940, completes the three year course for the regular Ohio first grade elementary license this year and will teach the third in the Sterling. Ohio, school next year.

Phyllis Yoder 40 is employed to teach the Dobson rural school near Fisher, Illinois, next year.

NEW MENNONITE HISTORY

A new book in the field of Mennonite history has just come from the press of the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale. The volume entitled, Ohio Mennonite Sunday Schools, was edited and published by the Mennonite Historical Society of Goshen College. A special historical committee of the Ohio Mennonite Sunday School Conference: I. W. Royer 00, Orrville, Ohio, Chairman; Bishop O. N. Johns x07, Canton, Ohio, secretary; and James Steiner 31, Garden City, Missouri, supervised the printing and distribution of the book.

The book contains 538 pages, several maps and nearly one hundred illustrations. Pre-publication sales of nearly 1500 copies make possible a price of only $1.50 to members of the Mennonite Church. Copies autographed by the author will be offered to all alumni at this special price during the 1941 Commencement. Single autographed copies will be mailed to alumni at any address in the United States for the same price provided orders are received before June 15, 1941.

THE NIGHTINGALE

On account of the large number of Goshen College alumni who are graduate nurses or students of the Mennonite School of Nursing in La Junta, Colorado, Goshen College Alumni will be interested in this publication of the School of Nursing to be issued in June.

The editors promise that it will be different outside and inside. It is to have a white leather cover and the changes on the interior will be just as interesting.

The editors are receiving orders now. The Nightingale sells for $1.00.

MRS. CHRISTOPHEL COMPILES GENEALOGY

Mrs. W. B. Christophel (Alta Kurtz 02) of 804 Wilson Blvd., Mishawaka, is the author and publisher of an interesting, well printed genealogy. The book, printed in February, is entitled "Ascending and Descending Genealogy of the Children of Joseph Kurtz and Lydia Zook."

The book gives the names and dates of birth, marriage, etc., of all the descendants of Joseph Kurtz and Lydia Zook, who were Mrs. Christophel's paternal grandfather and grandmother.

ALUMNI SECRETARY

L. C. Hartzler 35, Alumni and Student Field Secretary, has made a number of trips the last few months contacting student prospects and visiting alumni. After attending the annual banquet of the Chicago Branch of the Alumni Association on February 22, he visited the Sterling and Freeport, Illinois, communities the following week. During the week of March 8 to 15 he was in the West Liberty and Archbold, Ohio communities, and from March 22 to April 1 he visited in eastern Ohio and northwestern Pennsylvania. His most recent trip, May 4-17, took him to eastern Iowa, central Illinois, and Kokomo, Indiana.

On these trips Hartzler travelled about 4,000 miles and contacted 175 prospective students and numerous alumni. He reports a sincere desire among many high school graduates to secure college training, but finds many good students handicapped for want of financial support. Alumni everywhere show a keen appreciation of their Alma Mater's position as a member of the N. C. A. and are contributing toward the maintenance of that position.

EDITORIAL CHAT

Some of the personal items in this issue have been accumulating in the editor's desk since January and may no longer be news to some members of the Alumni family. Please remember that most of these items are news to a considerable number of Alumni who live far removed from the more thickly populated Goshen College Alumni centers.

Well, membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—a goal that so many of us have had in mind for a long time—the College has finally reached and that with a decisiveness that speaks well for the administration and for the general character of the school. Alumni have had a large part in this new evidence of the progress of their Alma Mater. Their contributions, and President Miller's promise that these contributions will continue, or will even increase, has been a large factor in securing accreditation.

There is one fact that we must not overlook. Purchase of books for the library was so low that it seemed that this might be the one item which would prevent membership in the North Central for Goshen College. President Miller, therefore, promised that an additional $2,500.00 would be spent for the purchase of books this year. No other source of funds is in sight except alumni donations. We feel sure that alumni will not fail their Alma Mater in this hour of opportunity. If every alumnus who has been contributing to the Goshen College Accreditment Plan during the past five years will add three or four dollars to his contribution this year, we can go over the top.

Goshen College is not stopping with accreditment in the North Central. A new form of recognition of the work of the College shows that Goshen really is in the academic picture.

President Miller was notified early in May that Goshen College has been accepted as a participating member in the College of Liberal Arts Study conducted by the Committee of Seven on the Preparation of High School Teachers in Colleges of Liberal Arts and sponsored by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Over seventy colleges made application to participate in this study and Goshen College is one of the twenty accepted.

The study will deal not only with problems related specifically to teacher preparation, but also to the entire educational experience which contributes to the ultimate equipment of the prospective teacher. The faculty has expressed its willingness to assist in the study and the Executive Committee of the Board has given final confirmation of the plan.

Goshen College designates a faculty member to direct a study program on the campus and assures him adequate time for the study by releasing him from part of his present teaching load. In turn, the Committee of Seven provides for this faculty member's training at a Workshop to be held at the University of Minnesota from June 16 to July 25, 1941. The committee will pay the faculty member's incidental expenses.

In the Workshop he will join with the other nineteen local directors in exploring the best procedures for conducting such educational studies and then will return prepared to assist other faculty members in analyzing their objectives and teaching procedures. Dean Harold S. Bender has been chosen by President Miller to participate in the Workshop and to direct the program of study on the Goshen College campus.

President Miller welcomes this opportunity to participate with other colleges in a project which he and Dean Bender had already been considering for Goshen College—the improvement of instruction on the campus. Participation with other schools in this project will focus attention on a matter of primary interest to the College at the present time.

WHAT ABOUT THE ACADEMIC YEAR 1941-42?

Alumni can be of great service to their young friends, brothers and sisters, sons and daughters, during the present bewildering national hysteria by counseling them to carry out their normal plans for college attendance. The war may end soon or it may continue for several years. In any event, trained young people will be in demand when the war is over and young people who lack training will be at a disadvantage during the reconstruction period when competition again will be keen in every line of human endeavor.

President Miller and the Goshen College administration urge all men students to return to college regardless of the time when they may be called to camp. The College, in line with the sensible program adopted by progressive institutions like Northwestern University and New York University, guarantees to men students that they will not suffer financial or academic loss if they register for the year 1941-42 and are called during the year.

In addition strong efforts are being made to have legislation passed which will grant a deferment until the end of the academic year. If such deferment is not allowed, however, Goshen College is ready to make some appropriate arrangement. It is even possible that academic credit may be granted for work done in the service camps. Some colleges granted such credit in the first World War. Goshen College will be ready to make every concession consistent with sound pedagogical principles and current educational practice.

FORENSICS

Interest in public speaking contests has been gratifying during this past year, both from the standpoint of audiences and of student participation.

On January 31, Harold Mishler 42 of Davidsville, Penna., won the prize given annually by the Aurora Literary Society to the winner of the Men's Annual Discussion Contest. On February 7, Genevieve Warner won the prize given by the Avon Literary Society to the winner of the Women's Annual Poetry Reading Contest. On April 30 Dorothy Snapp 44, of Bristol won the prize given by the Vesperian Literary Society to the winner of the Women's Annual Discussion Contest.

Probably on account of the cash prizes offered two of the most popular contests on the campus are the Waldo T. Stalter Freshman Men's Annual Discussion Contest and the Class of 1901 Freshman Men's Peace

Oratorical Contest. Mr. Stalter, member of the class of 1927 and now treasurer of the Western Rubber Company and president of the Goshen Rotary Club, annually gives $10 to the four freshmen placing highest in the Freshman Discussion Contest. This year Robert Hess of Mt. Joy, Penna., won first prize of four dollars; Albert Miller of Akron, Penna., second prize, three dollars; Nolan Hartzler, of Topeka, third prize of two dollars; and Fred Pletcher, of Nappanee, fourth prize of one dollar.

F. S. Ebersole, president and general manager of the Goshen Milk Condensing Company, a director of the First National Bank of Goshen, and a member of the class of 1901, annually gives a $10 prize to the winner of the Freshman Men's Peace Oratorical Contest. David Beck of Michigan City was the winner of this year's contest held May 12. Second and third prizes of five and one dollar, also donated by members of the class of 1901, went to Fred Pletcher, of Nappanee, and Ernest Shank, of Goshen, respectively.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATING

Charles Ainlay and Robert Kreider broke another record for the College this year by winning all their debates in the Manchester Tournament. Ainlay was unable to go to the Madison tournament and when Robert Kreider left for Madison teamed with Harold Oyer, a new man in the A Division, the most optimistic supporter on the campus hoped for no more than a victory or two. But Kreider went on to complete his intercollegiate debating career at Goshen by winning one hundred per cent of his debates in Madison, including in the teams defeated, Marquette University, University of Wisconsin, and St. Norbert. To add to the glory of this chain of victories, the affirmative team, John Leichty 42, Ralph Hernley 41, two new members of the squad, defeated the University of Chicago team and lost to only one opponent, the undefeated Alma College team. Robert Kreider also went to the semi-finals in the discussion event. All in all it was one of the best seasons for the intercollegiate debating squad within the past fifteen years.

SPRING GOSPEL TOUR

The Gospel Team made up of Samuel E. Miller 41, Middletown, Pennsylvania, and Ernest Smucker 41 of Goshen, and the Freshmen Men's Quartet, Wyman Sundheimer of Willowcreek, Ohio, Junior Steiner of Dalton, Ohio, Willard Schrock, Lowpoint, Illinois, and Chester Long of Sterling, Illinois, made a two thousand mile trip through Minnesota, the Northern Peninsula of Michigan, and the Southern Peninsula of Michigan, from April 4 to April 13. They visited Roseau, Minnesota, the home of the "Airplane Missionary" in Northwestern Minnesota, the Germfask mission station in the Northern Peninsula of Michigan, and gave their final program at Elmdale, Michigan on April 12. They carried the Christian message in song and by means of special talks.

CHORUS TOUR

On April 4, Professor Walter E. Yoder, director and 35 members of the A Cappella Chorus with Miss Viola Good, Dean of Women chaperon, left on a Grayhound bus for the annual spring tour. The first program was in Ft. Wayne over radio station WOWO. The tour carried the chorus East through Ohio and into Pennsylvania, then returning through Ohio. It included fourteen major programs besides several stops at high schools and colleges. Included in the program was "Knocking Ever Knocking," an original number by Professor Yoder, words written by Harriet Beecher Stowe.

PRESIDENT IN THE EAST

During the first week in May President Miller made a rambling tour of the East. Solicitation of students, church affairs, social calls, chapel talks, a visit to a C. O. camp, and other interests occupied his time.

He visited Grantham College, a junior college at Grantham, Pennsylvania, and sponsored by the Brethren in Christ. Several Brethren in Christ students have attended Goshen College during the past few years.

President Miller then visited friends at Biglerville and Lancaster and attended the annual meeting of the Franconia Conference held at the Rockhill Church. In Washington, D. C., President Miller appeared before the Civilian Service Board for C. O.'s and also had a very interesting interview with Dr. Gould Wichey, secretary of the Board of Church Related colleges.

He spent a night in the civilian camp, at Grottoes, Virginia, and visited Eastern Mennonite School at Harrisonburg, where he gave a chapel talk. President Miller also stopped at Scottdale, Penna., home of the Mennonite Publishing House, on his way home.

As we go to press President Miller and several other faculty members are in attendance at the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at Yoder, Kansas.

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND MEETINGS OF LEARNED ASSOCIATIONS

On Monday evening, April 28, seven faculty members reported on important meetings which they had attended during or following the spring vacation. Dr. Glen R. Miller reported on the meeting of the American Chemical Society at St. Louis; Professor Guy F. Hershberger on the Ohio Valley section of the American Sociological Association at Columbus, Ohio; Professor Willard H. Smith on the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association at Milwaukee; Professor Paul Bender on the meeting of the American Association of College Registrars at Indianapolis; and Professor Olive Wyse on the meeting of college teachers of Home Economics at Purdue. Dr. S. C. Yoder also reported on the meeting of Goshen College Alumni of Eastern Pennsylvania at Lancaster. President Ernest E. Miller had attended the meeting of the American Psychological Society at Athens, Ohio but could not be present for the faculty meeting. Professor Paul Mininger was honored by the State Conference of Religion for Indiana Colleges and Universities arranged by the Indiana Council on Religion in Higher Education held at Indianapolis on April 18. He was asked to give one of the principal addresses of the convention on the subject, "Effective Campus Programs of Religion."

FACULTY BUYING HOMES

In order to solve the problem of mounting rates in Goshen, several members of the Goshen College faculty have purchased homes in or near Goshen during the past year. Professor and Mrs. Harold Hartzler have purchased a lot with a house and barn, on the Fish Lake Road just across the line in Clinton Township on R. F. D. 1, Goshen.

Professor and Mrs. Silas Hertzler have sold their house and lot on LaFayette Street and have purchased the property at 1605 South Main, from Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Brunk x29 (Elsie Yoder x30), now of Frederick, Maryland.

A little over a year ago Professor and Mrs. Umble 01 (Alice Landis 01) sold the house which they built at 100 Lawndale Place in 1937 and purchased the house and lots at 101 College Avenue, formerly known as the Jenner place.

Early this year President and Mrs. Ernest E. Miller 17 (Ruth Blosser 17) purchased the John Blough property, a house and three nicely landscaped lots on Waverly between South Main and South Eighth, two blocks north of the College.

Professor and Mrs. Walter E. Yoder 33, purchased the Libbey Yoder property at 1221 South Eighth, during the present school year.

Within the past few weeks two other faculty members have purchased homes on South Eighth Street. Professor and Mrs. W. H. Smith 27 (Verna Graber 28), have purchased from the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, the former Anna Stalter property at 1519 South Eighth which they have been renting for several years. Professor and Mrs. Paul Mininger 34 (Mary Erb Mininger R.N. x35), have purchased the residence of the late Mrs. Erie Yoder from Mrs. Mary Yoder Burkhard x01 and Anna Yoder 12, at 1420 South Eighth. Professor Mininger's mother, Mrs. Hettie Shoup Mininger 00, of Kansas City, will move to Goshen and live with them.

Professor and Mrs. Paul Erb (Alta Mae Eby 12) are moving to Goshen early in June. They will reside temporarily in the Goshen College Apartments, but expect also at an early date to purchase a residence property or to build a house.

DR. EIGSTI'S RESEARCH

On March 5, Dr. O. J. Eigsti 31, Assistant Professor of Botany at the University of Oklahoma, delivered a lecture on "Practical Applications of Botanical Research" as one of the university's public lectures for the current season. In his lecture Dr. Eigsti discussed his discoveries in producing plants many times their normal size and also related his methods and results. He has produced several new types of periwinkles, and is now continuing his experiments with cotton, vegetables, and flowers.

The March issue of the University of Oklahoma Bulletin is entitled "Co-operative Research Issue," and carries a summary of a project directed by Dr. Eigsti during 1940. Five hundred people in many different occupations, in forty-seven states and seven foreign countries participated in Dr. Eigsti's project. The table of contents of the bulletin summarizes the work briefly: Purpose and history of the project; Who is interested in such experimental work? Plants studied during 1940; Results of the project, 1940; Comments; Types of colchicine preparations; Methods of application; Recognizing changes from colchicine treatment; Acknowledgments; Directory (the names of the approximately five hundred who co-operated in Dr. Eigsti's project during 1940); and, 1941 questionnaire. The latter gives six questions to be filled out by persons interested in joining the Amateur Co-operative Research Project which Dr. Eigsti is conducting in 1941.

Dr. Eigsti is particularly fortunate in enjoying the interest and encouragement of Dr. G. L. Cross, head of the Department of Botany in the University of Oklahoma, and also in receiving financial support from the department and from the administration of the University of Oklahoma to continue the work for 1941.

OYER HEADS RECORD

Harold Oyer of 42 and Verna Oyer 42 will be editor and assistant of the College Record for the coming year. The editor in chief is prominent in chorus work, dormitory affairs, gospel team work, student activities, sings with the college quartet, and majored this year as a star debater. Miss Oyer's major interest is journalism. Also her high soprano voice makes her a mainstay in the chorus.

COLLINS PLACES

Eugene Collins 43 of Goshen won third place in the state peace oratorical contest at Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana, on Friday evening, May 2, with his oration "War is Logical."

Third prize in this year's contest was $20.00. A year ago Mr. Collins won the F. S. Ebersole prize of $10.00 by winning first place in the Freshman Peace Oratorical Contest.

Albert Miller of Akron, Pennsylvania, Harold Liechty of Archbold, Ohio, and Ernest Shank of Goshen, all freshmen, accompanied Mr. Collins to Earlham.

As usual the superb delivery of the contestant from Wabash College won him first place. Second place this year went to the Manchester College orator.

For the first time in many years Goshen College has three young men on the campus at one time who have placed in the state contest. Charles Ainlay 41 of Mishawaka, won first in his Sophomore year; Samuel E. Miller 41 of Middletown, Pennsylvania, won third place in his Junior year. Collins, like Ainlay, entered the contest as a Sophomore. He is a graduate of Goshen High School and a member of St. John's Catholic Church of Goshen.

NURSES' CLUB MEETINGS

The Goshen College Nurses' Club continues to be a live, active organization. On March 17 the club met at the home of Professor and Mrs. Silas Hertzler. Mrs. Hertzler, who before her marriage was Anna Weaver, is a graduate of the Mennonite School of Nursing in La Junta. At the March meeting the club heard the following program: "Student Nursing Requirements," by Ethel Zook, R.N., 41; "The Voice of Experience," by Mrs. Paul Mininger (Mary Erb, R.N., x35); "The Future Outlook," by Gladys Weaver, R.N., 41; "The Doctor's Requirement of a Nurse," by Dr. H. Clair Amstutz 33, college physician. Fourteen Goshen College women who are interested in the nursing profession were guests of the club at the March meeting.

On February 17 the club met at the home of Mrs. Paul Mininger. Dr. Mary Bartholomew of Goshen was the guest speaker. She spoke about her work in the Women's and Children's Hospital, Chicago, and the Chicago Maternity Center. After the program the president led in an open discussion of the conscientious objector's relationship to Red Cross service. Because of the national survey of nurses now being made, the Club decided to send a letter to the Red Cross stating the position of the nurse who is a conscientious objector.

HESSTON CHORUS ON GOSHEN CAMPUS

On Monday evening April 21, the Hesston College chorus under the direction of John Duerksen 38, gave a program in the Assembly Hall. The chorus made an excellent impression on the Goshen audience and seemed to enjoy their trip to the campus very much. The auditorium came far short of accommodating the crowd which came from Goshen and surrounding communities to hear the chorus. Mrs. Duerksen (Ruth King 39) accompanied her husband on the tour.

CHICAGO ALUMNI MEET

The Chicago branch of the Goshen College Alumni Association held its thirty-third annual dinner at the Y. W. C. A. in Chicago on February 22.

After enjoying a social hour and a dinner, the group heard the following program: Piano Duet, Edith King 40 and Dana Troyer 40; Brief Summary of Events at Goshen College during the Year, Levi C. Hartzler 35; Vocal Solo, Maurice Burkholder 39, accompanied by Dana Troyer; and an address by Dr. M. Clifford Lehman 04. The meeting closed with the College Song.

The newly elected officers for 1942 are John Thut, 22, president; Raymond Yoder 38, vice-president; and Mrs. Floyd Shore (Viola Krabill 37), secretary-treasurer. Last year Mrs. F. D. King (Laura Smith x16) was elected membership secretary for two years. The reception committee for the February meeting was Mary Thornton 29, Miriam Leaman x24, and Mrs. J. M. Kurtz (Mable Miller 11).

EASTERN ALUMNI REUNION

On April 19, seventy alumni and friends of Goshen College attended the annual dinner and reunion of Goshen College Alumni of the Eastern States at the General Sutter Hotel in Lititz, Pennsylvania. The April meeting was a departure from the former practice of holding an annual picnic in August, and the group was very enthusiastic about the change.

The group enjoyed together the following program under the chairmanship of Lawrence Burkholder 39, Gettysburg, Pa., as toastmaster: Male Quartet arranged by Arthur Roth 33, Orrtanna, Pennsylvania; Piano Duet by Mrs. Milton Smith (Gertrude Bishop x32), Springfield, Pa., and Mrs. George Bishop (Verna Smith 34) of Doylestown, Pa.; Talks by E. A. Meyer 20 of Biglerville and Howard Charles 40 of Lititz; Baritone Solo by Dr. Harley M. Hunsicker 31 of Perkasie.

The principal address was delivered by Dr. Sanford C. Yoder. The evening closed with the singing of the College Song. Professor J. W. Yoder of Huntingdon, Pa., former instructor at the Elkhart Institute, led the group singing.

The officers, A. P. Hallman 31 of Akron, Pa., president, and George Bishop, x34, of Doylestown, Pa., secretary-treasurer, were re-elected for the coming year.

Dr. Yoder reports that the eastern alumni are a live, enthusiastic group very much interested in the work and progress of their Alma Mater.

On Monday evening, May 12, the College Community was saddened to learn that James Ganger, aged 18, Goshen College student, and his brother, Jack, 20, widely known and popular boys of Bristol, Indiana, both suffered fatal injuries when their motorcycle collided with a car at the intersection of Indiana highways 15 and 120 (Dussel's Corner) at Bristol.

Neither vehicle was traveling fast and neither was badly damaged. Both young men died at the Elkhart Hospital during the night.

Byron Ganger, father of the boys, was formerly postmaster at Bristol and is now deputy county treasurer in the Elkhart County house. Mr. and Mrs. Ganger live in Bristol.

The College Community extends its sincere sympathy to the family in their sudden and shocking bereavement.

THE ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

COMMENCEMENT, 1941

Another Commencement has come and gone—the first since President Ernest E. Miller took charge of the administration of the College a year ago. While the number of returning alumni was not so large as in 1940 when a new president was being installed and a new library dedicated, the large graduating class brought many relatives and friends to the campus. Several graduating classes held reunions and a number of alumni who had not attended an alumni reunion since their graduation, years ago, were present at the annual dinner.

Chorus Sings "Holy City"

The Commencement season began with a musical program on Thursday evening, June 5, when the College choruses sang Gaul's "Holy City," student soloists, accompanied by Rosemary Roose 43 at the piano, appearing in the solo parts.

Senior Class Program

President Ernest E. Miller introduced a number of new features in the Commencement exercises, holding the various programs in connection with Commencement on the campus. For the class program on Friday evening a large crowd found seats on the campus on chairs and improvised bleachers. Outstanding features of the program were the presentation of the glass gift by Ralph Hernley, Scottdale, Pennsylvania; the planting of the ivy by Eunice Weaver, Goshen, Indiana; the breaking of the wreath by Doris Stuckey, Archbold, Ohio; and quartet numbers by the class quartet, Robert Kreider, Wadsworth, Ohio; Allen Miller, Springs, Pennsylvania; Dwight Stoltzfus, Aurora, Ohio; and Alfred Zook, Wooster, Ohio. Miriam Stalter, Elida, Ohio, and Leonard Henard, La Junta, Colorado, presented the class. Paul King, of Goshen, presented the emblems to the junior class and the three phases of the senior class motto, "God our Guide, Service our Path, Success our Goal," furnished the titles of the three orations delivered respectively by Robert Kreider, Wadsworth, Ohio; Samuel E. Miller, Middletown, Pennsylvania; and Charles Ainlay, Mishawaka, Indiana. The latter has served as class president for four years.

Class Achievements

The senior class gift is a recreation cabin located on the two-acre plot east of the dam purchased last fall by the College with funds donated by faculty members and friends. The cabin is 20 x 40 with a large front porch extending the full length of the building and is equipped with a large stone fireplace and a kitchen.

The class of 1941 is not only the largest class but is also one of the strongest classes graduated in recent years. It has made an outstanding contribution to the extracurricular religious, literary, musical, and forensic program of the College. Two of the members of the class, Charles Ainlay and Samuel E. Miller, have placed in the state peace oratorical contest, the former winning first in the State and in the National as a sophomore. Members of the class have broken some records in debating in each succeeding year and one team finally broke all previous debate records of the College by going through the 1941 intercollegiate season undefeated.

Alumni Day

Saturday, June 7, was set aside for the alumni. The literary societies entertained former members at 10:00 in the morning and heard the old "grads" reminisce. The Auroras and Avons met together in Aurora Hall to hear a brief program dedicating the redecorated hall. The Auroras have spent considerable time and money during the past year painting the walls a delicate green, installing new chandeliers and new opaque window blinds to fit the room for showing slides in daytime, and replacing the two-tone print of Guido Reni's "Aurora" with a beautifully colored print of the same subject.

In the afternoon the youngsters took the measure of the alumni in the baseball game by defeating them with a score of seven to nothing.

The principal feature of alumni day was the dinner and reunion at 6:00 p.m. The reunion was in charge of Clifford P. Martin 27 who introduced the toastmaster, the Rev. John I. Byler 06, of Martinsburg, West Virginia. Professor Guy F. Hershberger, class sponsor, presented the class of 1941 and Wade Jones 41, of Denver, Colorado, gave the response.

F. S. Ebersole, of Goshen, toasted for the class of 1901 and the toastmaster asked the members of the class who were present to rise. They were: Mrs. Mary Burkhard, Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moyer, Elkhart; Mr. and Mrs. John Umble, Goshen; and Mrs. S. T. Miller (Anna Holdeman), Elkhart.

Dr. Samuel Burkhard, of Tempe, Arizona, who had not been present at an alumni reunion since his graduation, toasted for the class of 1911.

Mary Hooley, of Goshen, toasted for the class of 1916. Members of the class of 1916 who rose to take a bow were: Mr. and Mrs. Norman G. Bauman (Ella F. Shoup), Lisbon, Ohio; Ezra S. Deter, Chicago; Dr. Lloyd E. Blauch, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Ida Eby, Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Lehman (Lita R. Miller 15), Columbus, Ohio; Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Meyer, Cleveland, Ohio; Rev. Louis L. Miller, Normal, Illinois; Alice Trueschel, Fremont, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gerber, Wakarusa; and Dr. Solomon E. Yoder, Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Abram P. Hallman toasted for the class of 1931. Members of that class present at the reunion were: Dr. O. J. Eigsti, Norman, Oklahoma; Barbara Ann Hershberger, Kalona, Iowa; Dora Hershberger, Shipshewana; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hostetler, Louisville, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Jennings, Concord, Tennessee; Mr. and Mrs. Ora M. Keiser (Alta Brenneman 30), Kalona, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Perry J. Miller (Olive Miller), Shipshewana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shank (Lydia F. Shenk), Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Slabaugh, Goshen; Ora M. Yoder, Shipshewana; and Grace Schwary, Canton, Ohio.

Musical numbers were presented by the College ladies' quartet: Ella May Weaver 41, Harper, Kansas; Alta Hertzler 44, Morgantown, Pennsylvania; Kathryn Mumaw 41, Elkhart, Indiana; Miriam Stalter 41, Elida, Ohio. Mrs. Ralph Gerber (Elinor Smith 37), Elkhart, favored the group with a piano solo.

The principal address of the evening was by Josephus W. Shank who was celebrating the thirty-fifth anniversary of his graduation from Goshen College Academy in 1906. Mr. Shank spoke interestingly and informingly on the subject, "The Argentine Story."

President Ernest E. Miller in a concluding toast spoke briefly on the new plans for buildings, on the new additions to the faculty for next year, on the need for a new auditorium, and he expressed warm appreciation for the interest and co-operation of the alumni in the accreditment program which reached its fulfillment in membership in the North Central Association in March. He also presented the urgent need for the purchase of new books for the library during the present fiscal year which ends August 31.

Baccalaureate Sunday

A large number of alumni and friends were present at the Sunday morning service. Bishop P. A. Friesen, missionary on furlough from India, preached the morning sermon. In the afternoon the College A Cappella Chorus rendered the program which it had used on the eastern tour in April.

On Sunday evening Dr. Sanford C. Yoder, former president of the College, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates and a large gathering of friends and relatives, basing his remarks on Joshua 1:8.

Commencement

The exercises of the closing day of the Commencement season began at 10:00 on Monday, June 9, with the final chapel service in charge of President Miller and the Y. P. C. A. devotional service in charge of Samuel E. Miller 41, former president of the "Y."

On account of the rainy weather, the College Luncheon program was held in Assembly Hall. Among the visitors called on for brief addresses were Joe Weaver, Harper, Kansas; Bishop Enoch Zook, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania; L. S. Kreider, Wadsworth, Ohio; Benjamin Zehr, Croghan, New York; Ada Zimmerman, dean of women at Eastern Mennonite School, Harrisonburg, Virginia; and Levi C. Hartzler 35, alumni secretary, Goshen. The A Cappella Chorus directed by Professor Walter E. Yoder sang several numbers and by request the senior men's quartet repeated their numbers sung on the class program, Friday evening.

Rain on Monday evening again interfered with plans for holding Commencement exercises on the campus. All available space in the auditorium was occupied and some visitors could not gain admittance. This once more emphasized the need for an auditorium to accommodate the increasingly large crowds which gather on the campus several times a year on special occasions.

President Miller enjoyed the privilege of having for Commencement speaker at his first commencement as president of Goshen College, one of his former professors at New York University, the celebrated teacher and writer on Sunday-school work and Christian Education, Dr. Herman H. Horne, professor of history and philosophy of education. Dr. Horne, choosing as his subject the "Star of Life," spoke of the necessary foundations of a Christian character and of the value of a Christ-centered, God-directed life.

At the conclusion of the address, President Miller conferred degrees on fifty-nine candidates and granted diplomas to seven graduates from the elementary education course and to one graduate from the Christian Worker's course. Nancy Hernley x41, Scottdale, Pennsylvania, is also to receive the Bachelor's degree as a member of this class upon the completion of her nurses' training course at the Mennonite Hospital Training School for Nurses, La Junta, Colorado.

PRESIDENT'S APPEAL

Late in June, President Ernest E. Miller sent out an appeal to alumni for increased donations to make good his promise to the North Central Association that the College would spend an additional $2,500 for library books during the present fiscal year. The enclosed graph shows the amount of alumni donations to and including June 1. The graph shows that the alumni had contributed $3,611 from September 1, 1940, to June 1, 1941, leaving a total of $2,739 still to be raised before August 31, 1941. This would mean an average for the three months of $913.00. The amount donated during the period June 1 to June 30 was $267.00 leaving $2,472.00 to be raised during July and August.

If we are not to disappoint President Miller, it will be necessary for every alumnus to send a small gift in addition to what he has already donated this year or for a number of alumni who have not yet made a donation to the Alumni Accreditment Plan to make substantial gifts to what President Miller calls "The North Central Association Jubilee Book Fund in celebration of our entrance into the North Central Association." The accompanying cut serves as a graphic reminder of the funds still needed to make good the President's promise. This is the President's first request to the alumni group as a whole. It is not unreasonable and we must not let him down.

A few alumni responded promptly and generously in the first week of July but this generous response must continue for some weeks if the goal is to be reached.—And the goal must be reached!

EDITORIAL CHAT

Another Commencement has passed into history—President Ernest E. Miller's first Commencement as president of Goshen College. That it was highly successful, there can be no doubt. In number of graduates, in number of enthusiastic class reunions, and in number of sympathetic and interested visiting parents and friends, the 1941 Commencement season set a new high. Visiting alumni in particular expressed surprise and delight at the progress which the school has made within the last four or five years.

One fact is becoming increasingly evident as the years pass: The College badly needs a new auditorium. Several times a year large crowds attend special programs at the College, notably at the time of Christian Life Conference, Commencement, and Home-coming. Auditorium facilities are entirely inadequate. This year part of the exercises were held on the campus. This arrangement would be very satisfactory if one were sure that the weather would be favorable. This year for part of the Commencement season weather was too cool for an outdoor summer program and part of the time the rain drove the crowd indoors.

The chief administrative problem on the campus at present seems to be the raising of sufficient funds to maintain membership in the N. C. A. Continued membership in the N. C. A. beyond next spring is contingent on the purchase of additional books for the library. There seems to be no other possible source of income for this project than alumni donations. Other available sources of income are needed for current expenses. In anticipation of a possible deficit at the end of the fiscal year on August 31, faculty monthly allowances are already being decreased.

ALUMNI DONATE BOOKS

Several Goshen College alumni are helping to meet the requirement of the North Central Association that Goshen College add materially to its library holdings before the next annual inspection by the North Central Association, by donating books and magazines to the library. Mrs. A. L. Smucker (Lydia Kurtz 04), of Smithville, Ohio, recently donated a set of the Anglo-American Encyclopedia and Dictionary bound in half leather. She also donated copies of the German hymnbooks Halleluja and Hosiana used in the Sunday School at the Oak Grove Church in Wayne County more than fifty years ago and a copy of Philharmonia, a textbook used in Wayne County singing classes about the same time.

Professor Melvin Gingerich 26, instructor in history and social science in Washington Junior College, Washington, Iowa, has presented complete files of two important publications of the State Historical Society: The Iowa Journal of History and Politics and The Palimpsest.

Mrs. Otto Binkele (Stella Kauffman 34), Goshen College Librarian, reported recently that the library now contains well over 20,000 volumes.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE AT GOSHEN COLLEGE

A Young People's Institute, sponsored by the Indiana-Michigan Sunday School Conference and Goshen College, will be held on the campus August 6-10. The theme of the conference is "To me to live is Christ." President Ernest E. Miller 17 will deliver an address on the theme the first evening of the Institute. Miss Mary Royer 30 will have charge of the morning meditations. Bishop S. C. Yoder will have charge of a discussion group for young people who have completed high school. Dwight Weldy 40 will conduct a series of conferences on the subject, "The Place of Song in the Christian Life." Ethel Yoder of Shipshewana, presides over the fellowship period each afternoon. Miss Yoder also will be matron of the Institute.

Other Institute speakers and leaders are Henry King, Arthur, Illinois; J. J. Hostetler, Canton, Ohio; Bishop Floyd Bontrager, Midland, Michigan; Homer North, Nappanee; Amos Hostetler, Topeka; John Koppenhaver, Hesston, Kansas; and Bishop Ray Yoder, Wakarusa. I. E. Burkhart 26, field secretary of the College, is director of the Institute and J. J. Hostetler, director of the program.

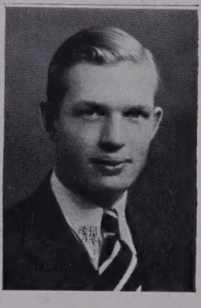
SAILS FOR INDIA

S. Paul Miller

On Sunday, May 4, S. Paul Miller 39, of Garden City, Missouri, was ordained to the ministry by his home bishop, I. G. Hartzler, assisted by Bishops J. R. Shank x06, J. C. Driver, Milo Kauffman, John M. Kreider, and Alva Swartzendruber. On July 5, Mr. Miller sailed from San Francisco for Calcutta, India, to serve as a missionary on the India field under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. According to present plans he and Vesta Nafziger 38, who sailed for India in the fall of 1938 and is serving in the Mission at the present time, will be married on Mr. Miller's arrival in India.

ALUMNI RECEIVE MEDICAL DEGREES

Four Goshen College alumni completed the work for the degree, Doctor of Medicine, in June. This is the largest number to graduate in any one year in the history of the College.



Dr. Carl M. Hostetler

Dr. Carl Milton Hostetler, formerly of Barrs Mills, Ohio, who received his bachelor of arts degree at Goshen College in 1933, and his doctor of medicine degree at Western Reserve University on June 12, will serve his internship at City Hospital, Cleveland.

After his graduation from Goshen College, Mr. Hostetler taught for three years at the Walnut Creek, Ohio, high school. He is married, his wife being the former LaVerne Yoder 34, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford C. Yoder, of Goshen.

While Mr. Hostetler serves his internship, Mrs. Hostetler and their son, Karl, will reside here with Mrs. Hostetler's parents on South Eighth Street.

Dr. C. Richard Yoder

C. Richard Yoder, son of Dan C. Yoder, West Liberty, Ohio, received his degree from Ohio State University Medical College at Columbus, Ohio, in June. Dr. Yoder received his B.A. degree at Goshen College in June, 1937, and entered the medical school in September of that year. During his junior and senior years he was honored with an undergraduate internship at Grant Hospital, Columbus, which paid a large part of his expenses. Dr. Yoder will enter St. Louis City Hospital as an intern on July 1.

Richard King, son of Mrs. Effie King, West Liberty, Ohio, was a classmate of Dr. Yoder at Goshen College but entered Ohio State University in September, 1936, after completing two years of work at Goshen College, and completed his junior year at that institution in 1937. He entered the medical college of Ohio State University with Dr. Yoder in September of the same year and maintained a consistently high rank in his class, graduating in June. On March 29 of this year he was married to Marie Hutchings, R.N., of Oxford, North Carolina, who was employed in a Columbus, Ohio, Hospital when she met Dr. King. Dr. and Mrs. King have moved to Miami, Florida, where Dr. King entered Jackson Memorial Hospital as an intern on July 1.

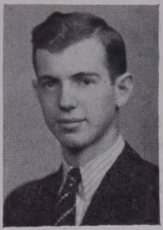
Dr. Richard King

The fourth Goshen College alumnus to complete his medical course this spring is Dr. J. James Brenneman, formerly of Tofield, Alberta. He is a brother of Dr. Fred Brenneman 33, a missionary at the American Mennonite Mission in Dhamtari, C. P., India. Dr. Brenneman transferred from Hesston College to Goshen College in September, 1933, and at the end of his junior year was accepted as a freshman in the medical college of Nebraska University in 1936. Dr. Brenneman is married to Maude Hartzler, R.N. x38, of Belleville, Pennsylvania, who had her work in nurses' training at the Mennonite Hospital Training School for Nurses at La Junta, Colorado.

Dr. J. James Brenneman

Dr. Brenneman has had his share of misfortune as well as good fortune. Ill health compelled him to discontinue his work for the medical degree at the midyear of 1939-40. He re-entered Nebraska Medical College at the midyear of 1940-41 and was graduated in June of this year. Dr. and Mrs. Brenneman have moved to Pennsylvania where Dr. Brenneman began his service as intern at St. Joseph's Hospital at Lancaster, beginning July 1. He had been accepted by the City Hospital, at Seattle, Washington, but when his breakdown in health changed his plans, he decided to serve his internship in Pennsylvania.

Two members of the class of 1941 have been accepted by leading medical colleges and plan to enter in September. Ernest Smucker, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ralph R. Smucker 28 (Alma Albrecht 11), former missionaries to India, plans to enter the medical school of Northwestern University at Chicago. Ivan Baumgartner, of Marshallville, Ohio, will begin his medical course at Western Reserve University at Cleveland.



Ernest Smucker

Ivan Baumgartner

RECEIVES VETERINARIAN DEGREE

Maurice Weldy x40, formerly of Wakarusa, received his degree, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, from the School of Veterinary Medicine at Michigan State College, East Lansing, on June 21. Dr. and Mrs. Weldy (Irene A. Grabill x39) and their baby moved from 103 Gra-Roy Drive, Goshen, on June 24 to their recently purchased home just north of the square in Wakarusa. Dr. Weldy has established an office at Wakarusa and is already a very busy practitioner.

TWO MORE GOSHEN ALUMNI GO TO HESSTON

Wilmer Landis 35, for the past few years superintendent of schools at Harleysville, Pennsylvania, goes to Hesston College in September as instructor in education. Mr. Landis holds a Pennsylvania State Supervising Superintendent's Certificate which he received in 1939. He was granted the degree, Master of Science, by the University of Pennsylvania in 1940. Mr. Landis is teaching courses in education during the summer session at Goshen College. Mr. and Mrs. Landis and their children will move to Hesston at the close of the summer session.

Eli Stoltzfus 22, formerly of West Liberty, Ohio, is employed to head the new industrial arts department at Hesston College and Bible School beginning in September. Mr. Stoltzfus served as a relief worker during the first World War, completed his work for the B.A. at Goshen College in 1922, and for the B.S. in Industrial Arts he attended the Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1931-32. He also attended the Biblical Seminary in 1924-25 and did graduate work at Wittenberg College in the summer of 1935. Mr. Stoltzfus has had considerable teaching experience. He taught manual training and vocational agriculture in the West Liberty, Ohio, schools for several years and during the past three years has been instructor in industrial arts at the Rittman, Ohio, high school. Mr. and Mrs. Stoltzfus (Lena Smucker 21) and children have moved to Hesston.

SAILS FOR PARAGUAY

O. O. Miller 15, Akron, Pennsylvania, sailed June 6 for Paraguay, South America, as a representative of the Mennonite Central Committee to investigate the conditions in the Mennonite colony in the Chaco. MENNONITE RELIEF IN ENGLAND

John Coffman 33, writing from Birmingham, England, under date of March 16, gives the following account of relief work which he and Ted Claassen are doing:

"The canteen is built on the chassis of a Humber motor car (comparing to a Buick in America). It is painted coach green outside and light green inside. The left side—nearest the sidewalk in England—is built up with a flap which lifts up over the counter or serving side. This side has a long counter with linoleum top. There are cup racks on the rear and front walls at each end of the counter, accommodating over 60 cups. There is a similar cup rack on the rear wall of the other side. Under this counter there is space for food trays and provisions protected by a sliding panel, shelving for equipment. . . . We spent Monday evening, all day Tuesday, and Wednesday until 3:00 p. m. in distributing soup, sandwiches, tea, coffee, biscuits (crackers), and cake to men, women, and children in the streets of the city. The men were those engaged in necessary clearing up and repair operations, firemen, and dock workers. Perhaps some of the latter were the very ones who have, or will assist in unloading the clothing which has been sent us from the United States and Canada.

"We made and dispensed over 1000 sandwiches, about 20 gallons of soup, 60 or 70 gallons of tea, 2 gallons of coffee (from a prepared extract when we ran out of tea), 15 pounds of cake, 10 pounds of biscuits (also used mostly as substitutes when we ran out of sandwiches and bread). The latter two items were dispensed, not made, of course.

P. S. "I was informed Saturday that a further shipment of 79 bales of clothing has arrived at Liverpool. This probably is the shipment baled at Mellinger's church as per our list December 4, 1940."—Ted Claassen.

Miss Huffman is continuing her work as instructor and is also working toward the Ph.D. degree, doing research in time and motion studies, a study that applies principles of engineering and industrial efficiency to home economics in the home.

ALUMNUS HONORED

Ezra Hoover 22, principal of the New Paris high school since his graduation from Goshen College, was elected superintendent of the Elkhart County schools on June 2 to succeed Ora C. Stryker of Nappanee, who has held the office for the past eight years. Mr. Hoover will assume his new duties on August 16.

In Indiana the county superintendent is elected by the township trustees of the county. Nine of the sixteen township trustees of Elkhart County cast their ballots for Mr. Hoover.

The new superintendent was born in Harrison township. He had four summers and extension courses in the graduate school of Indiana University. He holds a first grade life superintendent's license and also the same grade principal's license.

Before beginning his work at New Paris in 1922, he taught in the schools of Harrison township and for four years was principal of the Fayette, Ohio, schools.

Mr. Hoover is married and is the father of six children, one of whom, Helen, was salutatorian of her class in New Paris high school in 1939 and has been enrolled as a resident student at Goshen College since that time. Mr. Hoover and his family will continue to reside in New Paris.

The annual salary of the county superintendent is $2760.00 with $300.00 for traveling expenses.

WORK BEGINS ON COFFMAN HALL ALTERATIONS

On July 8, Contractor L. N. Miller, of Goshen, began excavation for the new addition to be erected on the north end of Coffman Hall. This building is to be occupied by a married member of the faculty who will be available for counsel by the officers of the dormitory and the dormitory council.

The new addition will resemble in general appearance and external construction the Health Center built on the north end of Kulp Hall in the summer of 1939 and consists of one story above the basement. The dimensions are approximately 35 x 35. Concrete steps and a concrete platform will lead to the entrance on the upper floor. On the west side facing the campus will be the kitchen (southwest corner), 8′ 6″ x 10, dinette, 9′ 6″ x 11′ 6″, and the living room at the northwest corner, 13 x 21 with the long side facing the north. On the east side beginning at the northeast corner will be a master bedroom, 11 x 12′ 9″, a smaller bedroom, 10 x 11, a bedroom at the southeast corner and steps leading to the basement.

The corridor at the north end of the first floor of the men's dormitory will be closed and a lavatory installed connecting with the room in the northeast corner of Coffman Hall. The latter is to become a guest room. The only entrance from the new apartment into the men's dormitory will be through the other room at the north end of the first floor of Coffman Hall which will be converted into an office to be shared by the faculty member and the other officers of the dormitory and the dormitory council.

The architect and the administration of the College have spared no pains to make this a thoroughly modern, comfortable, convenient apartment. It is well supplied with closets. The floors will be oak and the kitchen and bathroom thoroughly modern in every respect. The basement rooms will be used for laundry and storage.

The contractor promises to have the entire structure completed and ready for occupancy by September 1. The architect is Hubert Miller of Goshen.

The addition of the new apartment will make possible certain other desirable changes in the dormitory. Mrs. Oyer, matron of Coffman Hall, will have as her office the former "Y" room. The office formerly occupied by Mrs. Oyer will be converted into a reception room where occupants of the dormitory may meet their mothers and sisters and other visiting friends. The new arrangement makes possible a more unified, centralized grouping of the various administrative officials of the dormitory.

The men's social room at the northeast corner of the dormitory will be equipped with all-night lights, a number of study tables, and other furniture which will make it an ideal room for informal get-togethers, exclusively for men of the dormitory.

Another part of the plans calls for certain changes in the basement of Coffman Hall in what was formerly a shirt factory and storage room to provide additional recreational facilities for the men. The recreation room will contain ping pong tables and provide an informal meeting place for the men of the dormitory.

On May 20, Professor Wyse and her foods class accompanied by Orval Shoemaker 41 and Ralph Hernley 41, former students in Professor Wyse's foods class, visited the Swift and Company plant in Chicago. Mosemann, director of the Civilian Public Service Camp, No. 4 at Grottoes, Virginia, also operated by the Mennonite Central Committee, states that at present no former students or alumni of Goshen College are in his camp. Director Mosemann states that the actual work of the campees is done under the supervision of two government officials from the soil conservation staff who are located at the camp. The particular type of work is soil erosion control which may take one of two forms: strip and contour farming.

Goshen College alumni in Civilian Service Camp, No. 5 at Colorado Springs, Colorado include Ezra Shenk 38 who received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education at Goshen College in 1938, taught for several years at Broadway, Virginia, and who is working on the soil conservation project; Paul Miller x35 formerly of Elkhart, Indiana, who spent his freshman year at the College in 1931-32, and who is employed in the kitchen; and Orie Gingerich, Williamsburg, Iowa, who attended Winter Bible Term in 1940, and who is working in the office at the camp. Mr. Gingerich had planned to be in school at Goshen during this coming year if he had not been drafted.

Reports from all the camps indicate that the boys are enjoying good health and are reasonably happy under the circumstances. They are taking their year of service to their country seriously. All are grateful to the Church and to the Government for the provisions which have been made for conscientious objectors. The boys also are showing a fine spirit of determination to make this not merely a "wasted year" but a year of real service and a year of witnessing for their Master who taught that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

Goshen College alumni and friends of the boys are keenly interested in them and in their work and are fully convinced that they will spend the year not only in doing the work required of them by the Government faithfully but that they also will be building a stronger and more beautiful Christian character.

LATER NEWS FROM ENGLAND

John Coffman 33 writes from London under date of June 26 that some of the clothing shipped to England was destroyed in an air raid shortly after the shipment was unloaded. Mr. Coffman writes in part as follows: "I am glad to report also that a part of the shipment of clothing which was packed in Kitchener, Ontario, the last of February has finally arrived in London. Unfortunately only five cases out of seven cases and thirteen bales which composed the original shipment have come through to us, the rest having been destroyed in an air raid shortly after the shipment was unloaded. I hesitate to send such a report to our people lest it should dampen their enthusiasm for making clothing, and knitting garments in the future. However, I feel sure that thus bringing the results of war to their attention in such a personal way as the loss of these garments will do, will help them to realize all the more the great losses which helpless people in this country are suffering. It should then arouse their sympathy and incite them to greater efforts to relieve the distress which arises out of war. I feel sure, too, that their Christian love should be great enough to rise above these disappointments and enable them to continue their noble efforts in affording relief to those whose lives are made miserable and wretched. . . ."

SUMMER SESSION, 1941

The enrollment in summer school is slightly below that of last year. Judging from the decreased enrollment of men one would judge that summer jobs are easier to secure and the men are taking advantage of the sudden era of prosperity to make a little money before continuing their college work.

One reason for the decreased enrollment is that a number of alumni who have completed the two year elementary teacher training course and have been attending summer school to complete the work for their degree have now reached that goal. It is probable that this same factor will continue to affect summer school attendance adversely. A considerable number of regular students are doing work in summer school in order to hasten graduation before they are called to camp.

The enrollment of women students shows a considerable increase over that of preceding years.

The following fifty-two alumni are enrolled for summer school work:

George Amstutz 41, Kidron, Ohio; Adeline Aschliman 41, R. 2, Stryker, Ohio; Eileen Bachman x40, Metamora, Illinois; Louise Barringer 36, R. 4, Elkhart; Kermit Bechtel 43, R. 3, Goshen; Carol Beller 40, Graymont, Illinois; Doris Beller 40, Graymont, Illinois; Elsie Eash 41, Hollsopple, Pennsylvania; Edward Friesen 41, Dhamtari, C. THE ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

TO ALUMNI DONORS TO THE ACCREDITMENT BOOK FUND

I am deeply grateful to the alumni for their ready and liberal response to the appeal for the $2,500 for the Accreditment Book Fund. This is September first and our Business Office reports that we have now $2,338.21 actual cash in hand. A good personal friend has agreed to pay the balance. We have reached our goal and we have reached it on schedule time.

Not alone am I grateful because this now makes it possible for us to meet the demands of N. C. A. officials but also because I understand this as a manifestation of your continued confidence in the program of Goshen College. The expressions of loyalty in your many personal letters have been a source of great encouragement and I thank you sincerely.

Dr. Yoder's book was printed by the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale, Pennsylvania in 1940 and is on sale at the College for two dollars.

The list of honorary members of the society includes such well-known names as Walter Dill Scott, Robert Frost, Mark Van Doren, Walter De La Mare, Joseph Auslander, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Edgar Lee Masters, and Mlle. Eve Curie.

AUGUST ALUMNI REUNION

On Sunday, August 31, a number of alumni and friends of Goshen College met in the dining room of Kulp Hall to hold the nineteenth annual August reunion. Among those present were E. A. Meyer 20, of Biglerville, Pennsylvania, and Dr. and Mrs. Charles O. Hershey 14, of Chicago, with their son, Falls B. Hershey x39, a junior in Harvard University Medical College this year. The meeting elected the following members to serve on a committee of arrangements for next year: J. E. Brunk 15, Anna Yoder 12, Professor D. S. Gerig, of Goshen, and President Ernest E. Miller 17, of the College.

ILLINOIS ALUMNI REUNION

On August 21, Illinois Alumni met on the Conference grounds near Fisher, Illinois. Officers for the past year were Karl Massanari 35 and Alta Good Hershey 40, president and secretary-treasurer, and for the coming year: David Conrad x22 and Pearl Smith x23. The program consisted of reminiscences by Walter Smith x22, C. Warren Long 29, and Harold Zehr, and a talk on "Progress of the College during the Past Year," by Levi C. Hartzler 35, alumni secretary.

BOOK OF POEMS

Fannie E. Davidson, who received the business department diploma at Goshen College in 1913, has printed a little volume of original poetry and has presented a copy to the Goshen College Library. Miss Davidson had not been enjoying very good health and during her last serious illness started writing poetry as a pastime. The hobby grew until she published this book. She has another book ready which she plans to publish next year—a book of children's poems. Miss Davidson calls her book, "Songs in the Valley, a picture of the Christian Life." She sells the books at 35c or three for a one-dollar bill. Her address is Rural Route One, Garrett, Indiana.

EUROPEAN RELIEF

Dr. M. C. Lehman 04 has been carrying on some relief work in Warsaw under special permit, and is making an effort to help the Mennonite people in Alsace-Lorraine. He writes in his letter of July 3:

"I am continuing well. Will keep you informed as things develop. The future is uncertain. I encounter no hostility whatever. I am treated splendidly. Am learning many things. The question with me is whether I am justified in staying here in case the freezing of relief funds makes actual relief operations impossible for some time. I am persuaded by now that the M. C. C. will have work on a large scale to do in the way of relief and in Mennonite resettlement after this war is over. The German Mennonites are now also of this opinion. It is desirable that someone be in close touch with the whole set of affairs now coming to shape in Europe. The strictly non-political nature of the M. C. C. is known and makes it trusted."—From the Gospel Herald.

The growing family of Goshen College Alumni is engaged in many fields of activity as the present issue of the NEWS-LETTER witnesses. Numerous as the personal items are, no doubt many interesting items concerning alumni and their work have escaped the eye and ear of the editor. He is grateful to the many alumni who are interested in noting and reporting the activities of their fellow alumni for publication in the NEWS-LETTER.

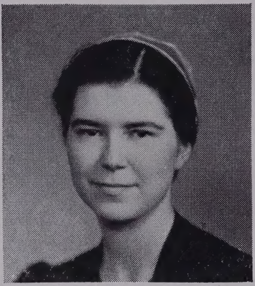
PERSONALS



Miss Lois Gunden

Miss Lois Gunden 36, instructor in French, is under appointment to do relief work in France. Miss Gunden's training should prove a valuable asset in her work. She has her master's degree in French and has spent several summers in graduate work in that field. During the past summer while she was enrolled at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor she lived in a so-called "French house" where all conversation was carried on in the French language. During Miss Gunden's absence Mrs. Charles Shank, the former Lydia Shenk 31, who taught French at Goshen College 1930-1939, will teach Miss Gunden's classes in French.

Professor and Mrs. Guy F. Hershberger (Clara Hooley 17) have been appointed to serve as educational director and matron at the Civilian Service Camp at Bluffton, Indiana, until June, to set up an educational program for the draftees. Their new six-room house on South Eighth Street is nearing completion. They are moving into the barracks at the camp.

A year ago Dr. Robert Friedmann, formerly of Vienna, was appointed honorary fellow in Anabaptist-Mennonite history by Goshen College. The study which Dr. Friedmann completed during the past year, a very valuable and thoroughly scholarly piece of work, he has entitled, "Mennonite Literature Since the Seventeenth Century." One chapter, devoted to the "Dutch Mennonites and Their Literary Influence on Their German Speaking Brethren," will be printed in the forthcoming issue of the Mennonite Quarterly Review. His book fills 220 manuscript pages, and it is expected that it will be published by the Mennonite Historical Society as a number in its series, "Studies in Anabaptist and Mennonite History." A subsidy by the Carl Schurz Foundation for the purpose of cataloging the materials in the Mennonite Historical Library will make it possible for Goshen College to employ Dr. Friedmann for this task.

A number of alumni, instructors, and others connected with Mennonite church schools took an active part in the program of the Mennonite General Conference held in Wellman, Iowa, August 22-29, and in the meetings preceding conference: Dr. Edward Yoder, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania, Sunday-school Lesson Review, Lower Deer Creek Church: Bishop D. D. Miller, of Middlebury, Indiana, sermon, "Separation"; Paul Erb, an address, "The Conformed Life," Wellman Church; Bishop Sanford C. Yoder, an address, "The Yielded Life," East Union Church. In the conference proper, beginning on Thursday afternoon, the following delivered addresses: Bishop O. N. Johns x07, of Canton, Ohio, "The Congregation"; Bishop Allen H. Erb x11, of La Junta, Colorado, the conference sermon; John C. Wenger 35, "Frontier Church Pioneering of a Century Ago"; Chester K. Lehman, of Harrisonburg, Virginia, representing the Music Committee of General Conference, "Our Church Hymnal, a Great Depository of Christian Faith"; Bishop S. F. Coffman, of Vineland, Ontario, "The Word Made Flesh"; Bishop J. N. Kaufman 17, of Peoria, Illinois, "Hitherto . . . Henceforth"; H. S. Bender 18, representing the Relief Committee, "The Church's Relief Activities—Purpose, Function, and Plans"; Ernest E. Miller 17, representing the Mennonite Board of Education, "An Effective Christian Emphasis in Education"; Jesse Martin x26, of Waterloo, Ontario, "Salvation for Victory"; Milo Kauffman, of Hesston, Kansas, evangelistic sermon on Hebrews 9:28; John L. Stauffer, of Harrisonburg, Virginia, "Living the Word"; Guy F. Hershberger, representing the Committee on Industrial Relations, "The Christian and His Living"; Orie O. Miller 15, of Akron, Pennsylvania, representing the Peace Problems Committee, "Civilian Public Service." Milo Kauffman, president of Hesston College, was elected moderator for the next two years.

Goshen Again Rejoices in Her Opportunity to Help

Ernest E. Miller, President

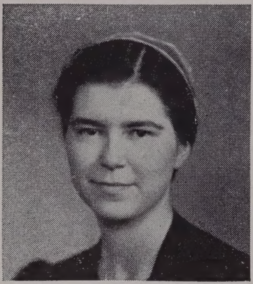
Goshen College is a church college. She is a servant of the church. She considers it one of her privileges to have her resources available to help carry on the activities of the Church. And, she rejoices with every indication that her faculty and students are ready to translate their ideals into Christ-like service.



Lois Gunden

In August the Mennonite Central Relief Committee asked for a worker for France who could speak to the orphans in their own language. Lois Gunden was our French teacher—efficient, sincere, and loved by all. "Yes," she replied, when I contacted her at Ann Arbor, "I am ready to go." She sailed from New York on October 4 on the S. S. Excambion. In a letter written just before she left she said: "All the details in getting passport and visas worked themselves out much more smoothly than it seemed possible to expect. To me this is another of the definite indications of God's leading in the matter. I was always convinced that if God needed us in France, He could provide the way to get us there. Since the way has so clearly opened, I am assured that I am following the will of God. Knowing this, I can look forward with a quietness and calmness of heart. Although I realize that there are dangers ahead, I also realize that my life is in His control, and that nothing can happen to me without His knowledge. Christ promises: 'Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.' In my own experience I have discovered the reality of this promise."

The Civilian Service Board needed an educational director for the Civilian Service Camp at Bluffton, Indiana. Guy Hershberger had given many talks on peace. He wrote a book, "Can Christians Fight." Here was an opportunity to help execute those ideals. It meant breaking up his home and postponing moving into the new house just in the process of being finished. But he said, "Yes." Now there is little time for writing, but his service is adding meaning to the phrases he wrote earlier.

We are glad, too, that Sam and Ella May Miller left the U. S. on October 24 to join the missionaries of the church in Argentina. And we rejoice that another Goshen graduate, Vernon Schmidt, sailed on Friday, October 10, for Paraguay. He went to assist the Mennonite colonies in the Chaco and eastern Paraguay in building a hospital and improving their methods of transportation. We are glad, too, for the goodly number of Goshen students who are scattered in the Civilian Service Camps set up by the Church.

Yes, we rejoice that Goshen students and faculty, prompted by the compulsion of a divine love, are ready to give themselves in answer to the tragic needs of our time. "Seekest thou great things for thyself, seek them not."

Serving Our Generation*

"He serves his country best
Who lives pure life and doeth righteous deed
And walks straight paths however others stray
And leaves his sons, as uttermost bequest
A stainless record which all men may read:
This is the better way."

Recognizing the difficult problems facing youth today in a world badly disfigured by the volcanic lava of war, President Miller challenged the student body in his term address to prepare for a life of service, thus contributing to a continuation of the democratic way of life.

"It is an accepted principle in modern education that 'we learn to do by doing,'" he said, initiating the first step in his discussion. The one main purpose of the student is to acquire knowledge which will contribute to his life later on. At Goshen College he has opportunity to learn in class and through non-curricular activities, such as the chorus, gospel teams, editorships of the school newspaper and the annual, language clubs, literary societies, etc. These outside activities help to provide a balanced development.

Each student must choose those activities which are most worth while for him according to the goal which he has set for himself and not attempt to take part in all the organizations or functions on the campus. It is often better to be able to say, "This one thing I do," than to say, "In these twenty things I dabble."

The second step in preparation for a life of service is to choose a carefully balanced program of studies. The college now has a well organized testing program covering the fields of English, General Culture, and Contemporary Affairs. This program has value in determining the areas of strength and weakness of the individual Goshen student. It assists the administration in providing remedial courses for weak students and in giving vocational advice where needed. It also has value in providing an opportunity for comparing our total Goshen results with other colleges of similar size and background, thus showing the areas of strength and weakness of our own college.

* Thoughts on the Term Address delivered at regular chapel service, Sept. 12, 1941, by President Miller.

A comparative study of our sophomore results of last year with the national norms of the Co-operative Test Bureau showed favorable results for Goshen in all the items of General Culture and most of the items under English. However, in the field of Contemporary Affairs the comparison was decidedly unfavorable to Goshen.

Further investigation showed that many of our good academic students rarely read any magazines or new books, arguing that there was no time. However, if a student does not learn how to find time for worthwhile things in his daily schedule while at college, he will likely never find time in later life. Faculty and student body alike must catch the vision of building lives and not merely inculcating or assimilating facts. No building can be truly serviceable that is not properly proportioned. No program of study can be completely successful unless it is well balanced.

Maintaining a religious emphasis is the third important factor in training for service. The church in America has in turn fostered the elementary school, the high school, and the college. In every case the state has moved in with the result that education has been secularized to the point where religion has been almost completely divorced from education, even in our institutions of higher learning.

What is the result? "On all fronts we have proof of moral, political, and business degeneracy—not resulting from a lack of education but rather born out of an education that has failed to recognize 'the binding force of religion.' " We have been unable to build generations strong enough to wield the resources we have discovered for the betterment of mankind.

Who must bear the responsibility for bringing order out of the present chaos? "No organization nor institution must assume a greater degree of responsibility for helping to bring order out of chaos, sanity out of insanity, and Christian culture out of paganistic barbarism than educational minded church bodies and church related educational institutions. Ours is the challenge and ours the opportunity."

In concluding President Miller said, "A primary condition necessary to retain a more effective Christian emphasis is that we recognize the need for it. . . . We must, I believe, be more aggressive to keep alive the Christian and distinctive traditions of the Christian Church by a positive Christian teaching program which is intelligently challenging. There is urgent need to keep ourselves intelligently aware of the social evils confronting us today both in order that we may keep ourselves 'unspotted from the world' and that we may have a message to carry into the world. We must enter into the labors and sorrows of the world, but we, too, must carry into that world the flame of a faith truly free from the world."

The 1941 Home-coming at Goshen College

VIOLA M. GOOD

As we draw near to the Thanksgiving season our thoughts turn also to the home-coming of a goodly number of our alumni. Please accept this message as our welcome to you and arrange to be with us. As this bulletin goes into print, plans are on foot to make this the best Home-coming you have ever attended at your alma mater. In our efforts to do this we are adding, as a new feature, an Educational Conference. The fact that so many of our alumni are actively engaged in the teaching profession has prompted us to plan for this conference. We feel it will be mutually beneficial for us to share together such experiences as have enriched our own lives as Christian teachers. If you are a teacher we expect you; if not, we cordially invite you to attend this conference, anyway.

Another outstanding feature of our home-coming activities is the lecture to be given on Friday evening by James Sawders on "The Pan-American Highway." Mr. Sawders is one of America's outstanding platform personalities and has been called "the historian with a camera." He will share with us his fine pictures in color. You will not want to miss this lecture. Mr. Sawders will give the same lecture on the following day, November 22, as a number on the Saturday afternoon lecture series at the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago.

The home-coming committee would like to receive your reservations for Thanksgiving dinner as early as possible. Since Kulp Hall is filled to capacity and there are only a few rooms available in Coffman Hall, you are urged to reserve rooms early. Off-campus rooms can be secured at a moderate cost. Address all correspondence regarding home-coming to Viola M. Good of the home-coming committee.

Students Are Unusually Healthy

Records of Health Center Show

H. CLAIR AMSTUTZ, M.D.

This year's freshman class is notable for the lack of physical defects, according to records gathered by the Health Center. This encouraging state of affairs may be due in part to greater financial income in the homes, or perhaps to more effective health education in the high schools. At any rate, an unusually large number had had a complete medical examination and had remedial work done by the dentist or oculist prior to coming to college. There was also an increased number who had been tuberculin tested, either in the high school or by private physicians. Most encouraging of all was the fact that there were fewer who showed defects of the heart than in previous years, and since such heart defects are often secondary to either rheumatic or scarlet fever, there is probably more vigilance and hygienic care on the part of parents than heretofore.

These observations were made by the health staff during the regular medical examinations which are given to all new students on their arrival at college. These examinations consist in taking a complete medical history, followed by a physical examination to detect if there are any defects of vision or hearing, or any other abnormalities or infections. One of the routine features is a tuberculin test, with a follow-up of an X-ray picture of the chest for all positive reactors. Goshen College students have fewer positive reactions than students in the average college, according to comparisons with figures disclosed by the National Student Health Association. This is thought to be due to the predominantly rural origin of Goshen students.

The emphasis of the Health Service throughout is to prevent defects and disease, and to promote a positive health. For this reason, opportunity is given for students to be immunized against diphtheria and smallpox, and most of the students not already protected avail themselves of this facility. Likewise, food handlers are examined, food sources are inspected, and accident hazards are reported. There is a close correlation between the physical education staff and the health staff. This is made more effective than ever this year by having a full-time faculty member, Roman Gingerich, in charge of physical education classes and intramural athletics. The college physician prescribes the type and amount of activity to be taken by each student after having studied his history and health record. The emphasis on positive health has led also to the inauguration of a course in personal hygiene which is required of all freshmen. By means of posters and constant emphasis on health we attempt to make the entire campus health-minded.

Daily Clinic Service Available to Students

Dr. Amstutz Leaving after Daily Clinic

Another feature designed to protect students is the daily noon-hour clinic. That students use this service is indicated by the impressive total of over two thousand clinic calls a year. The most common malady is a cold, but a variety of complaints is presented ranging from inability to sleep nights, to sleeping too much in class; from boils and "baseball fingers" to homesickness and "roommate trouble." Because the Health Center is interested in all aspects of the student's health, including mental adjustments, records are kept of each student's academic load and work load, his sleeping habits, and recreational interests.

When necessary for the student or for the group, a student may be assigned one of the five beds in the infirmary. On the average, one bed is occupied daily. This means that the rate of absence from classes due to illness is about one third of one per cent. The staff feels that this low rate is accomplished by early bed rest, especially for colds, and by segregation of those ill with an infectious disease from the rest of the student body.

Several of the more severe diseases have visited the campus during the past two years, though fortunately none gained epidemic proportions. There have been four cases of measles, one each of mumps, scarlet fever, undulant fever, and infantile paralysis.

In the various activities the college physician is supported by a staff of two nurses, both graduates of the Mennonite Hospital at La Junta, Colorado, and now students at the college. As one of them said, turning from the co-ed who claimed to be losing her red hair to the athlete with a sprained ankle, "There is never a dull day around here."

Student Aid

H. S. BENDER, Dean

Some years ago, Goshen College adopted a policy which might be worded as follows: "No worthy young man or woman of our constituency shall be denied an education merely because of lack of money." Since that time, through scholarships, grants-in-aid, and service appointments, the College has gone the limit in aiding young people of character and promise to secure a college education. Last year, 23% of all student charges were returned to students in some form of aid, either through non-service grants, or through service appointments.

Probably the most generous of all forms of aid which the college gives is the so-called Mennonite Grant, which is given to all worthy Mennonite students during their junior and senior years in college, provided they have spent the previous two years in some Mennonite college. This grant, amounting to $100 per year, has been made available since 1938. Over $14,000 has been given outright to Mennonite students by this grant. During the current year, $4,500 is being paid out. This grant is not based upon scholarship and does not require any service to the College. It is given because the college believes in the young people of the Mennonite Church and wants them to have the opportunity to complete a four-year college course.

In view of the unrestricted character of the grant, it has been the secret hope of the College that those of our students who have profited by the grant, and prosper after they go out into the world, might return all or a part of what they have received, in the spirit of helping the College to continue this generous policy to future generations of students. However, such return has never been made a condition of the grant.

A few days ago, the President of the College was the surprised but happy recipient of a letter enclosing a check for $100, returning a Mennonite Grant-in-Aid received by one of last year's seniors. The letter was a surprise, first, because this was the first case of such a return, and, second, because the return was made so soon after graduation. The $100 must have been taken out of the very first earned income of this alumnus after graduation.

This generous and splendid action on the part of a graduate of the Class of 1941 has been the source of delight and inspiration to the President and to all the faculty far beyond the intrinsic value of the $100 check itself, for it speaks of a loyalty to the College and a sense of appreciation of what the College has done, which we like to believe is characteristic of the great body of graduates.

A Student Laboratory Assistant

We venture the hope that others who have received a portion of the $14,000 issued in Grants-in-Aid in the last three years will be inspired to follow the example of the one who has made the first return. Increasing costs and urgent needs for improvement and expansion of the college program and facilities make every donation at this time doubly welcome. If even one fourth of those who have received the Mennonite Grant-in-Aid would return each year one half of what they received during the junior and senior years, over $1000 per year would flow into the treasury of the College with no outlay for solicitation and advertisement. In the long run, an institution like Goshen College lives because there are those who believe in it and are willing to support it and sacrifice for it, whether they be students, alumni, staff or constituency.

A growing number of alumni will have a larger place in the future of Goshen College if the spirit of the graduate who occasioned this little article is characteristic of all. The old German Mennonite custom of responding to donations was to say, "Vergelt's Gott." In English this would be, "May God repay you." A hearty "Vergelt's Gott" to anyone who is helping to make Goshen College fulfill its larger mission this year and in the years to come.

Five Years of the Alumni Accreditment Plan

A fertile idea in the minds of certain school and alumni officials a little over five years ago developed into the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan. The original purpose of the plan was to provide an annual income from alumni contributions which could be used as endowment interest in the absence of the large endowment necessary to supply funds for operating costs. The revised standards of the North Central Association made provision for such a plan.

Leaders of the alumni association were called together for a special meeting during the Homecoming season in the fall of 1936. The plan was launched under the direction of Professor John Umble, Alumni Secretary and editor of the Alumni News Letter.

The above graph shows the number of contributors and total contributions for the first five years of this plan. An analysis of contributions shows that 933 alumni have contributed to the plan thus far. The college administration expresses its gratitude to these 933 alumni and friends for their faithfulness.

In ascertaining the number of contributors each year, both man and wife were counted in the case of alumni marriages, which made a difference of 95 in the number of contributors for 1940-41 alone.

It is also important to note that of the 933 alumni who have given during the five years, only about half that number gave each year. Furthermore, 933 is a little less than half of the total number of alumni and ex-students who have gone out from Goshen College. Therefore, we were only about twenty-five per cent loyal each year.

That twenty-five per cent loyalty meant $5,036.50 for Goshen College last year, but only after an appeal was made for the special book fund, and seventy-four alumni made a second contribution. These seventy-four alumni were not always the most able financially, but they were willing to sacrifice to help promote the program of education carried on at Goshen College.

Another graph on this page shows alumni donations for 1940-41 according to their size with the number and total contributed in each bracket. An increase in the number of donations in the higher brackets helped to boost our total this year.

The original plan called for a goal of $10.00 from each alumnus annually. It has been a sort of standard. Now that we are in the midst of prosperity with other standards rising, including wage standards, why not raise your giving standard for Goshen College? We believe that our alumni friends will send all they can when they are kept aware of the need. Therefore, if you can double your five dollars, why not raise your standard? If you can give twenty-five instead of ten, why not do it? Goshen College strives to be a good steward of all the gifts sent to her.

Our Goal

100% LOYALTY

Our present rate is twenty-five per cent loyalty annually. Goshen College alumni can do better.

The National Resources Planning Board recently published a statement placing the national income for 1940 at 75 billion dollars and estimating the 1941 income at 84 billion and the 1944 at 105 billion. There is money on hand today for every available luxury. This is your opportunity to give to Goshen College as you have planned to do for so long.

Goshen College must have $15,000 in donations this year to help meet operating costs of $137,000. We are asking our alumni for five of that fifteen thousand.

But Goshen College needs more. She needs a new heating plant, a larger auditorium, and a new gymnasium with better athletic equipment.

That is why we are calling for 100% loyalty from alumni in a time when money is to be had. With twenty-five per cent loyalty last year providing a little over $5,000 after nearly 15% of the donors had given twice, we are setting $5,000 as a must goal for this year, but making our real goal 100% loyalty from all alumni.

By 100% loyalty we mean that each alumnus should contribute what he can to his college. No donations are too small and none too large to be acceptable.

The usual method is being used to help you give. Triple-duty envelopes containing a statement of our goal and a return envelope for your check will be mailed to all alumni immediately following this bulletin. Why not make your donation a thank offering and send it in during the Thanksgiving season? If you have already made a donation since September 1, lay the envelope aside for future use. But, do not cast it aside unless you have sent in your contribution, however small it must be.

The standards and principles upon which Goshen College is based must be upheld in our chaotic world. Your support is vital. Let faith in Christ and love for your fellow men compel you to give according to your convictions.

Message from the President of the Alumni Association

Thirty years ago I heard a sincere man pray for lightning to destroy Goshen College. He feared his daughter would be influenced by the College to become a missionary instead of remaining on the farm with her family.

Goshen College has come a long way since that time. We now think a life spent in mission activity is the apex of Christian service. We no longer think agriculture the only pursuit for Mennonite young people. More and more Mennonite young people are looking to business, teaching, and manufacturing for their livelihood, professions requiring college training. If we believe in giving the students that follow us through Goshen College the best, why shouldn't we have a conviction regarding supporting Goshen College the same as we have toward missions? Our Church and Alumni are supporting missions right well. A need for missions is announced and in general the money required for the project is forthcoming.

However, our educational program needs a big project to inspire support each year. Why must this be true? Goshen College has need of generous contributions every year whether there is an accreditment plan on foot or a library to build.

Many of us recall how as students we resolved to support Goshen College after graduation. During the years since college we have spent much time planning our financial program so we could retire our debts and meet our family obligations. Most of us have prospered to the extent that we can easily make a substantial contribution to Goshen College every year. Why not put Goshen College in our budget? Why can't each one of us do a little personal work in an effort to make our giving to education more spontaneous? Let us strive to attain our goal: "Every Alumnus A Contributor Every Year." We can do better than in the past. Goshen College needs the income which our unanimous giving will produce.

Enrollment Trends

Goshen College enrollment equals, and slightly exceeds at present, the enrollment of last year. This is quite encouraging in a year when many colleges are experiencing large reductions of enrollment, due to increased opportunities for employment and the calling of men by the government to Selective Service. This showing at Goshen College is in spite of the fact that about twelve men who were in school last year and would probably have returned this year have been called by the government Selective Service, in addition to others who have stayed at home to work. The good enrollment figures are probably due in part to the better business conditions and in part to the fact that Goshen College is now a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

On October 18, the Goshen College enrollment stands at 338 as compared to 333 at this time last year, an increase of five. Of this increase, three are in the full-time students now numbering 255 as compared to 252 a year ago, and two are in the part-time students now numbering 83 as compared to 81. The freshman class shows the largest increase over last year, numbering 109 as compared to 99. The sophomore and junior classes each are one larger, while the senior class is nine smaller than last year. Post-graduates number the same and part-time students two more than a year ago. The following table shows comparative enrollment numbers for the past ten years, in which annual totals are given for all but the present year.

* To October 18, 1941. Numbers for previous years are annual totals.

The enrollment of Mennonite students, members of the "old" Mennonite Church, totals 170 among the full-time students, which is 67 per cent of the total full-time enrollment. This compares with 189 or 75 per cent a year ago, a decrease of eight per cent. Counting in this year's full-time enrollment also the twenty-one members of other Mennonite branches, the total for all Mennonites is 191, or 77 per cent. The decrease in percentage of "old" Mennonite students for this year can be accounted for by an increase in the relative patronage of local students, and a decrease in students from a distance, which decrease was due in part to the draft. The change in relative attendance by states will show these variations. The following table shows church membership figures by classes.

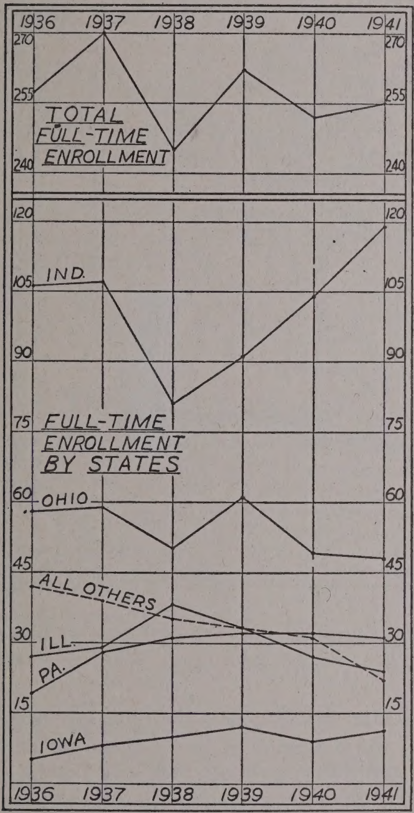
The states from which most Goshen College students come are Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Iowa. The accompanying graph shows the numbers of students coming from each of these states for each of the past six years, as well as the total full-time enrollment. These are all early first semester numbers for comparison. The low point in the enrollment in 1938 was due in part to the discontinuance in that year of the two-year elementary education program by the state of Indiana. The high point in 1937 was also partly due to the fact that that was the last year when students could start the two-year elementary education program. Over the past few years, the state of Ohio has also increased the requirements for the elementary education curriculum from two to four years, affecting adversely some of the attendance from Ohio. This year's enrollment by states is also shown graphically in the map on the next page.



Each class shows more women than men, with a total of thirty-one more women than men full-time students in the college. Last year the women exceded the men by only four. The condition of the times will probably account for the relative decrease in men students. The increase in women students is reflected in the curricular choices, showing ten more in the secretarial and ten more in the elementary education curriculum, which include chiefly women. The liberal arts curriculum shows a marked decrease of seventeen. A large proportion of all part-time students are teachers in near-by public schools, who are advancing their training while they are employed. Goshen College membership in the North Central Association has helped to attract these people to Goshen College for evening and some day classes. The following table shows all these numbers for this year in detail.

New transfer students from other colleges number only ten this year as compared to seventeen last year. Hesston College is in the lead again, sending to us five juniors.

The freshman class is always of particular interest, because they are newcomers to the campus and point the way to the character of the campus life and the curricular offerings for the next few years. On the whole they seem to be a very serious-minded and yet spirited group, with above average native ability and high school training. They have already shown their mettle by taking an active interest in religious, athletic, and other activities on the campus. Forty-two per cent of the freshmen indicate that their fathers are farmers, while perhaps at least another ten per cent come from distinctly rural homes. About one fourth of the freshmen plan to be teachers, one fourth plan to enter business, while another fourth plan to enter some scientific profession. Only three of the men say that they want to become farmers. Again the trend of the times is reflected in a small decrease, over last year's class, in prospective teachers, and a marked increase in future business men and engineers. Medicine, nursing, and related scientific pursuits continue to attract a goodly number of students. It is gratifying to note that ten freshmen plan to enter the ministry or other religious service.
